Foreword

It gives us pleasure to serve the church each year by making available to our constituency through the Mennonite Yearbook and Directory a statistical picture of the activities and growth of the church. The 1948 Mennonite Yearbook is more complete and contains more information than any previous issue and we are grateful to God and to the officials of the church for making this issue possible. The patronage of the members of the church who are active and interested in the activities of the church as well as the excellent co-operation and support of those who furnished the information has made the 1948 Mennonite Yearbook a reality.

We believe that it is Scriptural and right each year to observe through the pages of the Mennonite Yearbook the general scope of our activities as well as the general trends in growth and expansion in the church. The information is encouraging this year with rises in church membership, Sunday-school enrollment, summer Bible school enrollment, number of mission Sunday schools, as well as a special rise in number of ordinations. The observation of facts such as these is no reason for exaltation in our attainments but rather should help us to continue to go forward humbly and obediently in the Lord's will praying that our spiritual growth may keep pace with other phases of our growth.

The editor has attempted to present facts and figures without interpretation. Since care and judgment must be exercised in the interpretation of statistics, we urge all our readers who are interested in drawing conclusions from the statistics made available to do so carefully. More time, effort, and painstaking care have been used in the collection, compilation, and publishing the information in this issue than in any preceding issue. We have tried to publish the statistics and facts as they were reported to us and as we believed they were intended to be reported and published.

Following are the new features to which we want to call your attention: (1) A section on comparative statistics. (2) List of Mennonite ministers in Holland and Brazil. (3) The list of missions among various peoples. (4) The completion of gathering telephone numbers for the Ministerial Directory. A number of other minor improvements will be noticed by the reader as he uses the Yearbook from time to time.

Again this year we wish to express our sincere appreciation for the fine co-operation and support of all church officials. Constructive suggestions have been received from a number of ministers and church workers. Some of these suggestions have been incorporated in this year's Yearbook. Several have asked for a reprint of the tabulation of births and ordinations of the ministry. This is planned for in the near future, possibly next year. Suggestions are always welcome and much appreciated.

We trust that the 1948 Mennonite Yearbook will find even a larger welcome than previous issues from our ministry, church officials, lay workers, and our young people. From its pages come not only information and statistics but inspiration and a challenge to all to do their part in helping to continue faithfully in the service for Christ and the church.

Two Hundred Years of Printing in the Mennonite Church

By John C. Wenger

Introduction

At the outset it should be stated that American Mennonites employed non-Mennonite printers from 1727 until about the middle of the nineteenth century when John H. Oberholtzer (1809-95) of the General Conference group, and John F. Funk (1835-1930) of the Mennonite Church, became active publishers. Joseph Funk (1778-1862), of Virginia, was a notable exception. He began his publication work, hiring his work done on non-Mennonite presses, in 1816, and set up his own press in 1847—the first press in the Mennonite Church in America. Among the non-Mennonite printers who issued Mennonite books from 1727 until the latter nineteenth century are the following: Christopher Saur, Germantown; the Ephrata Cloister; Michael Billmeyer, Germantown; Joseph Ehrenfried, and John Baer, Lancaster; and many others. It was in the year 1864 that John F. Funk, then a young man of twenty-nine, began his long career as a publisher. For a time the firm was known as John F. Funk and Brother; later, Mennonite Publishing Company. The Mennonite Book and Tract Society was organized in 1889. The Gospel Witness Company was established in 1905. Finally in 1907 the Mennonite Publication Board was organized as a church-wide and representative governing board to oversee the publishing work of the Mennonite Church.

The First Period: 1727-1847

The major Mennonite publications in this period were about twenty in number and consisted for the most part of reprints of European Mennonite productions. The first item was an English edition, for non-Mennonite use, of the Dordrecht Confession of Faith of 1632, entitled: The Christian Confession of the Faith of the Harmless Christians, in the Netherlands, Known by the Name of Mennonists. 1727. The work was reprinted in 1814, 1835, and 1836. Another early publication was a reprint of the old Swiss brethren hymnal, the Ausbund, the first edition of which had been issued in 1564; this was published in 1742 and reprinted in 1751, 1767, 1785, and many times since. In 1744 Henrich Funk, a Franconia district minister, himself a European emigrant, published his German Mirror of Baptism; this was reprinted many times, undoubtedly in an attempt to offset the immersionist teaching of the Church of the Brethren. The next year, 1745, another European reprint appeared in America, in German of course, Golden Apples in Silver Bowls, being a collection of various items from early Anabaptist martyrs and leaders. Another European reprint of that same year, 1745, was a German prayer book entitled, The Christian's Serious Duty. In the year 1749 after several years of toil the Ephrata Cloister issued a German translation of T. J. Van Braght's Martyrs' Mirror, the original Dutch edition of which had appeared in 1660. This is said to have been the largest book printed in America before the Revolutionary War. Various German reprints of the Martyrs' Mirror have been made and several English editions have also appeared, the first in 1837.

Henrich Funk died in 1760 and three years later his hinterlassenen children published his Restitution, a treatise on the fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy by Christ; this was later reprinted in German, and an English edition appeared in 1915. In 1763 a book on Bible history by a Dutch Mennonite minister, J. P. Schabalie, was published in German and entitled, The Wandering Soul. Of this work a total of at least sixteen German and five English editions have been printed in America. In 1769 was published the first American edition, in German, of the Conversation on Saving Faith, by the European minister, Gerhard Roosen, 1612-1711. There have been almost twenty American editions of this catechetical work, some in German and some in English.

At the request of Christopher Saur, the Brethren publisher, the "pious Mennonite schoolmaster of the Skippack," Christopher Dock, himself an emigrant from Germany, wrote a pedagogical treatise in 1750 entitled School-Management, which was published in German in 1770 and again in 1861. In 1792 two laymen from the Franconia Conference, John Herstein and John Schmutz, went to Germany and had printed in Frankfurt-on-the-Main a volume of sermons by Jacob Denner, an Altona (Germany) Mennonite minister, entitled Christian and Edifying Meditations; this edition, though printed in Germany, was for American Mennonite consumption, specifically in southeastern Pennsylvania.

Nothing by Menno Simons appeared in print in America before 1794—one hundred eleven years after the first Mennonite families settled in Germantown—when his Foundation-Book was printed in German at Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Four German reprints were made by 1851, and four English editions appeared from 1849 to 1869.

Soon after 1800 the American (Pennsylvania) Mennonites finally began to think about producing their own American Mennonite hymnals. Franconia Conference had a committee working, and so did Lancaster Conference. Later the two committees got together and planned to issue one book. But both committees had more hymns than could be used in a single book if combined. In the end, therefore, each conference published its own hymnbook. Franconia's appeared first, in German of course, Zion's Harp, 1803. Lancaster's German Impartial Hymnbook came off the press the next year. A Weaverland, Lancaster County, minister, Christian Burkholder, published his German Address to Youth in the same year, 1804. Seven years later the Enchiridion of Dirck Philips, Menno Simons' colleague, was published in German translation at Lancaster. In 1816 the Virginia Mennonite publisher, Joseph Funk, issued his musical work, Die allgemein nützliche Choral Music (General and Profitable Choral Music). Twenty years later, 1836, a Franconia Mennonite minister, attempted to start a religious periodical but it died after only one issue was published.

Two more items should be mentioned in this first period: A Description of the New Creature was a treatise on regeneration, which was evidently prepared to meet the proselyting activities of the Evangelical Association; it was written by a Doylestown, Pennsylvania, minister named Abraham Gottschall and was published in both German and English the same year, 1838. The other work was by the Canadian minister, Benjamin Eby; it was published in 1841, a German Church History.

The Past Century, 1847-1947

The year 1847 starts off in the Mennonite Church with an English hymnbook entitled, A Collection of Psalms, Hymns and Spiritual Songs, published by Joseph Funk at Mountain Valley, Virginia. (The name of the place was later changed, and quite appropriately so, to Singer's Glen.) In the century which followed 1847 there were almost numberless reprints of the "standard" books of Mennonite faith and life: writings by Menno Simons, Dirck Philips, The Martyrs' Mirror, the Ausbund, The Wandering Soul, Roosen's Conversation on Saving Faith, Eby's Church History, Funk's Mirror of Baptism, and the like, but apart from hymnbooks and family histories, very few new Mennonite books appeared before 1900.

It should be noted that one of the most reprinted books was a musical work, first entitled A Compilation of Genuine Church Music, but called Harmonia Sacra after the fourth edition. This work was first published by Joseph Funk in 1832 (on a non-Mennonite press, of course). At least twenty editions of the book have been issued. Funk's relative, John F. Funk of Elkhart, Indiana, published a fine little hymnal in 1890, Hymns and Tunes. In 1902 he published another, still the favorite with a large number of Mennonite congregations, Church and Sunday School Hymnal, edited by John D. Brunk, a Virginia music scholar, who later was professor of music at Goshen College. Many scholars feel that the best hymnbook in the Mennonite body under discussion is the Church Hymnal, Mennonite, 1927. Various other books were issued, such as Life Songs No. 1, and Life Songs No. 2.

Comparatively few new books have been issued during the past century in exposition of the distinctive doctrines of our brotherhood. In this list should be included however works such as the following. In 1857 Joseph Funk issued his Reviewer Reviewed, a reply to a Brethren criticism of Funk's Mirror of Baptism; that is, Funk defended pouring as the correct mode of baptism. In 1863 John F. Funk, then of Chicago and but twenty-eight years of age, wrote polemics for nonresistance in both German and English entitled Christianity and War; he also published a booklet, Warfare, Its Evils, Our Duty, 1863. Both booklets were reprinted one or more times. In 1867 John M. Brenne-man, an Ohio Mennonite minister, wrote his booklet, Pride and Humility, which was issued from Funk's press the next year in a German edition, also. In 1882 David Sherk, an Ontario minister, wrote in both German and English a small book entitled Nonconformity to the World, also published by John F. Funk's Mennonite Publishing Company. J. K. Zook of Missouri published a smaller book with an identical title, Nonconformity to the World, in 1895. John Horsch published one of his scholarly monographs, Infant Baptism, in 1917; his German work on Nonresistance in 1920; and his English work, The Principle of Nonresistance as Held by the Mennonite Church, in 1927. Horsch also wrote a booklet on Christian attire, Worldly Conformity in Dress in 1926. One of the finest Mennonite monographs to appear in all of Mennonite history is G. F. Hershberger's, War, Peace, and Nonresistance, 1944 (reprinted 1946).

Ten major periodicals have been published by the Mennonite Church. J. F. Funk founded the Herald of Truth, issued in both English and German editions, in 1864. The Mennonite Family Almanac was started in 1870. Words of Cheer, a children's paper, followed in 1876, and the Young People's Paper in 1894 (discontinued 1906). The Gospel Witness, aspiring to become the church organ, was established in 1905. Three years later it merged with Funk's Herald of Truth to form the present Gospel Herald. The Mennonite Yearbook and Directory appeared in 1905 for the first time, and the Christian Monitor, a religious monthly, in 1909. The Youth's Christian Companion was launched in 1920 and has achieved a comparatively large circulation. The faculty of Goshen College started publishing The Mennonite Quarterly Review, a scholarly journal of Mennonite history, thought and current affairs, in 1927. The largest circulation of all is enjoyed by the small evangelistic leaflet, The Way, founded in 1914, and issued monthly.

Three major works from the sixteenth century have been published in English translation in the last century. The Complete Works of Menno Simons was issued by Funk at Elkhart in 1871; Van Braght's Martyrs' Mirror from the same press, 1886; and Dirck Philips' Enchiridion, also with Funk as publisher, 1915. Worthy of mention also is P. J. Twisick's Peaceful Kingdom of Christ: An Exposition of the 20th chapter of the Book of Revelation, issued by Funk in 1913. (Twisick, who was married to a granddaughter of Menno Simons, lived 1565-1636.)

The latter part of the nineteenth century several small books for Christian education were issued by Funk at Elkhart. Roosen's shorter and longer catechisms were published time and again (Conversation on Saving Faith); J. S. Coffman's Infant Lesson Book, 1880; the Intermediate Question Book, 1880; the Bible Class Question Book, in both German and English editions, 1881; the Primary Question Book, 1883; the Sunday School Lesson Helps, 1890; and the Confession of Faith and Ministers' Manual, 1890. Space forbids a listing of modern books and booklets of this type. Mention should be made however of Alta Mae Erb's Christian Nurture of Children, 1944 (reprinted 1946).

To date the following district conference minute-compilations have been published: Virginia, 1884 and 1939; Eastern A. M., 1911; Western A. M., 1912; Kansas-Nebraska, 1914; Southwestern Pennsylvania, 1923; Indiana-Michigan, 1929.

The most important general Mennonite histories are the following: D. K. Cassel, 1888; John Horsch, 1890, 1893, 1942; Hartzler and Kauffman, 1905; C. Henry Smith, 1909, 1920, and 1941; Daniel Kauffman, 1927.

The following regional Mennonite histories have appeared: Virginia, 1910; Illinois, Pacific Coast, and Lancaster, all in 1931; Ontario, 1935; Franconia, 1937; Iowa, 1939; and Ohio (Sunday school history), 1941.

But few books covering the field of Christian doctrine as a whole as understood by Mennonites have appeared, and Daniel Kauffman wrote or edited almost all of them: his Manual of Bible Doctrines in 1898, his 100 Lessons in Bible Study in 1899, his 1000 Questions and Answers on . . . Christian Doctrine in 1908, his Bible Doctrine in 1914, and his Doctrines of the Bible in 1928. George R. Brunk's Ready Scriptural Reasons appeared in 1926. Even greater is the paucity of works in the general field of the Christian life. In this area we have works like M. S. Steiner's Pitfalls and Safeguards, 1899; Daniel Kauffman's Talk with Church Members, 1900; and J. E. Hartzler's sermons, Jacob's Ladder, 1908.

Conclusions

In general it must be confessed that the American Mennonite Church produced little literature before 1860, and even after that time not very much until the last few years. In the earlier years in America, as in Europe, but few books outside the Bible and a few Anabaptist items were read. In more recent years a vast amount of non-Mennonite books and booklets, some with a quite unscriptural point of view and influence, have found their way into our homes and have done their damage to our children and young people. The winds of quietistic pietism, militaristic fundamentalism, and humanistic modernism have not been without their disturbing influence in our brotherhood, largely because we have not furnished adequate and sufficient literature for our people—who are today reading vastly more more books and periodicals than in earlier days. Fortunately in the present generation there has been a great revival of interest in our Anabaptist heritage of faith and life. May God Almighty give us a correspondingly clearer understanding of His will for us, as well as the loyalty and spiritual devotion to realize that will in life.

The Mennonite General Conference

By John L. Stauffer, Moderator

The twenty-fourth biennial Mennonite General Conference is history. Fifty years ago a number of able brethren were burdened for the unity and spiritual progress of the Mennonite Church and believed that a general conference would help to bring spiritual benefits to the church. Their convictions led them to set up this type of organization. Practically all of the original promoters of Mennonite General Conference have been called to be with the Lord.

Delegates from eleven different district conferences, including all bishops, constitute the delegate body of Mennonite General Conference. Interested brethren from several other conferences, not organically affiliated, participate in its activities.

Perhaps a brief review of the standing committees of Mennonite General Conference together with the recently appointed ones may be of interest in revealing the inner working of the Conference and bring before us some of the objectives that are sought by the several committees.

General Problems Committee

This committee endeavors to acquaint itself with the institutions operating under Mennonite General Conference. It represents the Conference in the investigation and attempted solution of general problems that arise within the Mennonite Church. It submits a report of its observations and conclusions making recommendations which they believe will safeguard Biblical principles and practices and promote a deeper spirituality in the entire church.

Industrial Relations Committee

Years ago a committee of this nature was not needed. Today, with more of our people living in the city and engaged in industrial work, it has become necessary for the Mennonite Church to give attention to the labor union problem and to seek to protect her people from the blighting effects of coercion and violence that frequently accompany labor organization. This committee has interceded on behalf of members where the closed shop has been established and in some instances have been able to arrange for the exemption of our members from labor union membership. This committee has also issued literature designed to encourage our people to maintain a Scriptural practice and to give information to employers and union leaders.

Peace Problems Committee

The doctrine of nonresistance is constantly being assailed, but especially in times of national conflict. This committee has produced literature designed to inform our people on the doctrine. In various ways they have attempted to keep our nonresistant testimony before the civil powers and the world at large. During the last World War their work was increased through keeping in touch with brethren who were drafted and scattered throughout the nation in Civilian Public Service. While the recent emergency is past and the number of members on the committee has been reduced, they have an important assignment, particularly in view of the problems arising from the possibility of Universal Military Training becoming law. Our young brethren would then be faced again with the test for the truth of nonresistance. This committee is charged with responsibility to look after the church interests in this area.

Mennonite Historical Committee

This committee functions in connection with our history as a people. It has sponsored the publication of Mennonites in Europe by John Horsch and has also planned for a companion volume on Mennonites in America to be written by Harold S. Bender. This work is in the process of preparation. The committee is interested also in the collection of historical data and seeks to show how the Mennonite Church may profit from past history.

Music Committee

Worship in song is vital in any denomination. This committee compiles the music of the church. The publication of Life Songs No. 2, Songs of Cheer and the Church Hymnal were sponsored by this committee. This group is interested in promoting congregational singing and will make further recommendations in the field of church music.

Mennonite Mutual Aid

The many problems arising in the Mennonite Church along the line of finances, the need for loans, the need for practical advice and counsel, assisting the Civilian Public Service brethren who have been in camp and were thus deprived of their earnings during that time, and needs in other areas, all come within the province of this committee. The committee endeavors to be of material aid wherever possible, in accordance with good business ethics and Christian principles. It is not a charitable organization, but an organization that endeavors to help members to help themselves.

Education Study Committee

The many winter Bible terms, the colleges, the secondary and elementary schools within the Mennonite Church are rather loosely organized and are not well co-ordinated, yet there is constant call for transfer of credits from one educational institution to another. While there has been some co-ordination in several areas, there is need for more. The problem of personnel, courses, training of teachers, credits, and their transfer are some of the problems that face this study committee. The committee is making a study of the whole problem and will doubtless have some workable recommendations to report in the future.

Interboard Committee

The need for a co-ordinating committee to function in the area of advice and assistance to all other committees of General Conference and to take under advisement general matters which do not come under the scope of any existing organization is met through the Interboard Committee. This committee is made up of representatives from all of the other committees, eleven members in all.

Committee on Arrangements

This standing committee functions immediately before Mennonite General Conference convenes. It is the work of this committee, composed of a member from each conference together with the entire Executive Committee and representatives from other boards and committees, to approve the program provided by the Executive Committee and censor the reports of the various committees.

Executive Committee

This committee is composed of seven men. Four of them are elected biennially, while three of them are elected for a term of six years each, one of the three being elected at each biennial meeting. To this committee is delegated the task of arranging for the place, time, and program of Mennonite General Conference. It is also responsible for the appointment of all committees not otherwise provided for from the last session of Mennonite General Conference. When matters of importance arise between conferences, this committee is responsible to function, and should the issue be of sufficient importance, the committee could arrange for a special session of Mennonite General Conference. This committee needs your prayers that it may faithfully discharge the responsibilities with which it is charged by the constitution of Mennonite General Conference.

The new Executive Committee for the 1948-49 biennium met at Scottsdale, Pennsylvania, in September, 1947, to appoint the personnel of the new committees not otherwise provided for and to transact such other business that was necessary following the last session of a Mennonite General Conference. Perhaps a preview of the work to be done during the coming biennium will help the brotherhood to appreciate some of the problems facing the Mennonite Church and will also help them to pray more intelligently for the work.

Ministerial Study Committee

The appointment of this committee was recommended in the 1947 report of the General Problems Committee. Ministerial duties are greatly multiplied because of the times in which we live. The recommendation suggests that the committee "study the present-day ministerial problems for the purpose of drawing up policies and giving guidance so that our ministerial needs may be met and at the same time the church may be saved from the methods and systems that would lead her away from the simple, nonconformed, nonresistant faith as taught in the Holy Gospel which we profess to believe." The following brethren were appointed: Aaron Mast, Chairman; C. F. Derstine, John E. Lapp, Menno B. Troyer, and John H. Alger.

Life Insurance Study Committee

Mennonite Mutual Aid recommended the appointment of a committee to make a thorough study of the life insurance problem. There is a need for a comprehensive study of this complex question together with the implications arising therefrom. The following brethren were appointed: John L. Horst, Chairman; H. N. Troyer, Simon Gingerich, Carl Kreider, and Ivan Lind. Let us pray that the Holy Spirit may direct this committee in their study of the complex life insurance problem so that Christian principles may not be sacrificed in any way regardless of cost involved in the maintenance of our holy faith.

Committee on Mennonite General Conference Organization

The Interboard Committee in their report recommended the appointment of a committee to study the organization of Mennonite General Conference. The present organizational plan has been in operation for the past fifty years. The fact that it has served effectively for this length of time is no argument against improving and increasing its efficiency. Whether this can be done or not, is the work of this study committee. The Interboard Committee recommended a committee of eleven. After considering the matter the Executive Committee appointed the present moderators of the eleven supporting conferences of Mennonite General Conference. A. J. Metzler has been appointed chairman of this committee.

The Resolutions Committee presented to Mennonite General Conference a resolution pertaining to the problem of Church Finance Budgeting. This was discussed and then later withdrawn without any action. Inasmuch as there are a number of people thinking along this line and since there is an evident need for some system of financing the various activities of the Mennonite Church so that all activities receive the support they need, the Executive Committee decided to appoint a study committee on the subject of Church Finance Budgeting. J. D. Graber was appointed as chairman assisted by Milo Kauffman and Paul Erb.

As one tries to comprehend the many problems that face us in this complicated world, a feeling of impotency steals over us. Who is sufficient for the demands of the times? Our help must come from God. Let us pray that the Mennonite Church may remain loyal to the Word until Jesus Christ returns, and while He tarries; may we seek to make Christ known to the ends of the world.

Advancing with Christ

By J. D. Graber, Secretary Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

Fifty years ago we had practically no mission program in the Mennonite Church. From 1897 to 1947 there has indeed been an advance. From year to year it is sometimes difficult to measure the progress made, but when viewed over longer periods the development is plainly evident. Nor has advance always been gradual or uniform. The first ten years of the century and the decade comprising the twenties have been the periods of most rapid expansion. When is the next upward curve due?

Many people, and this is by no means limited to the Mennonite Church, feel that we are on the threshold of a new period of expansion in missions. Everywhere among the mission boards one sees charts and hears of plans for advance. Everyone seems to feel, as it was expressed by John R. Mott, the great missionary statesman, that in missions we have done either too much or too little. It is clear that we cannot remain standing where we are. The needs of the world are so colossal that if we believe in the Great Commission at all we are constrained and challenged to do much more than we have ever done in the past. If we do not believe in missions, then we have done too much; there was no point in making this beginning if we do not expect to go through with the program.

The full implications of the Great Commission are beginning to become more evident to the Mennonite Church. So much is clear that we are in transit. We have not reached a stopping place. Civilian Public Service, our world-wide relief program, and the increasing tempo of our evangelism on many fronts are beginning to make the world conscious of the Mennonites. Who are these people who hold such independent and virile ideas on war and peace? What is the dynamic that makes them give and go so wholeheartedly into a world relief program? "These people ought to have something to tell us," they say. We do have something to tell them. We have the message of eternal life through faith in Christ Jesus our Lord. We believe in God and we know He is still on His throne. Such simple faith is as dynamic as it is rare in the world today. Must we not speak out and lead out in a much more vigorous way than ever before? The world bankruptcy in spiritual and moral values demands that we do. The impacts we need to be making on community and nation are just beginning to be evident. There is no turning back; we must go forward.

That is the reason for the Five-year Plan of Advance the Board adopted in its 1947 Annual Meeting. Sixty new, life-service missionaries for foreign fields is the program for the next five years. Twenty shorter-term service personnel are planned for in addition. These eighty missionaries are to serve in China, India, Argentina, Uruguay, Puerto Rico, and perhaps in Belgium and England. Home missions, city and rural, are to be expanded by 25 per cent. Local mission outposts for every congregation are the ideal, and evangelism all along the entire front is more and more to characterize our church activity. Giving, naturally, will need to be increased, for enlarging programs inevitably mean expanding budgets. Stewardship teaching is to be stressed and the blessedness of regular systematic, proportionate, and cheerful giving is to be held out as the New Testament ideal.

But the advance is not all in theory. Definite milestones have been passed during the year under review. In January five missionaries arrived in India and in April three more. At the end of the year five new appointees are awaiting entrance visas to that country while four others returning after furlough already have their visas and four have recently applied to the India government for permits to re-enter. New volunteers are coming forward for appointment in 1948.

To Argentina four new missionaries set out in March, but one of them, Clifford Snyder, was called home while en route and was buried in an unmarked grave near the equator in the Atlantic Ocean. The call has gone forth for other young people to consecrate their lives to take the place he has left. Five missionaries returned after furlough and in December four new appointees are either awaiting passage or an entrance permit.

On Sept. 12 our first five missionaries sailed for China. They are all in West China at the year's end engaged in language study preparatory to undertaking the opening of work in the Hochwan area of the Szechwan Province.

Several new people were appointed to work in our city missions during the year. At the end of October a conference of city missionaries was convened in Chicago where discussions were held and conclusions reached that will mean a strengthening of the work.

At Culp, Ark., the school building was completed during the year, equipment was installed, and the staff substantially built up. A new congregation was organized and at another point definite steps were undertaken for the establishment of a new center of witness.

The children's and old people's homes continued during the year to give a much appreciated service. All places are full and usually there has been a waiting list. One new superintendent, one assistant superintendent, and a number of new workers have been added to the staffs in the various places. At La Junta the new wing of the hospital has been completed bringing the total number of beds to about one hundred. Occupancy has usually been at over one hundred per cent. Planning and fund raising has characterized the activity in connection with the new hospital and School of Nursing at Elkhart and Goshen, the project being undertaken in co-operation with the Board of Education. Costs keep mounting and inflation proceeds apace. All this raises new problems and makes the load heavier, but a sustained effort over a number of years will make this new School of Nursing and this enlarged hospital witness a reality for our church.

"Speak to the people that they move forward."

Mennonite Relief Committee

By John L. Horst, Chairman

The personnel of the Mennonite Relief Committee at present is as follows: John L. Horst, Chairman; C. L. Graber, Secretary; Orie O. Miller, H. S. Bender, Ernest Bennett, J. D. Graber, and S. C. Yoder. The Committee looks after the relief interest of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. El. C. Bender, treasurer of the Board, usually meets with the Committee and helps in making decisions. When major projects are up for consideration, meetings are held jointly with the Executive Committee of the Mission Board.

The Mennonite Relief Committee co-operates with the Mennonite Central Committee, which also serves as a clearinghouse for the carrying on of work that is directly sponsored and supported by our Committee.

Our Committee at present directly sponsors two projects in Europe—Belgium and Poland; and one in Africa—Ethiopia.

1. Belgium.—This work was started in December, 1945, as an emergency relief project. When general conditions in Belgium improved, this phase of work was greatly reduced, and a building project was begun at Bullange, a badly destroyed village in the province of Liege in the eastern part of the country. This is an area in which people of German origin live, and therefore it has peculiar needs; besides, the language makes communication comparatively easy for our workers. During the past summer about fourteen men have worked at the task of cleaning up and repairing wrecked homes and other buildings and have done a good and much appreciated job. Also, during the past summer, Bro. Paul Peachey performed a commendable service in doing direct relief work among the families of men who were in prison because of collaboration with the Germans during the occupation. These men are rapidly being liberated and the greatest need in this field is over.

Bro. and Sister Cleo Mann, Elkhart, Ind., are director and matron of the headquarters in Brussels. Bro. C. Warren Long, Peoria, Ill., has been serving acceptably as pastor of this unit. It is hoped that mission work may be opened in Belgium and the Mission Board is making plans to this end. Plans are to continue the building work this coming summer.

2. Poland.—Here a large farm provided by the government is being operated by our relief unit; direct relief is also being given. The workers have found great need and have distributed considerable quantities of food and clothing. Work has also been done among the Mennonite refugees. There will be a continuing need in this area for direct relief among the children and Ukrainian and German families. Bro. J. Alton Horst is acting director of this work. Early this year Bro. and Sister David Schwartzentruber, Tavistock, Ont., will sail to join this unit. There is a growing conviction that Poland is a fertile field for Christian work, both among the few remaining Mennonites and the other people who live there or have been moved into the region to take the place of the expatriated Germans. This unit will be built up to a strength of nine or ten persons.

3. Ethiopia.—The work, which was opened here in September, 1945, is largely in the form of health service, although a small amount of direct relief material is given out. The hospital and clinic operated at Nazareth reaches thousands of people, as does other health work among the people of the area. A school for hospital attendants is also operated. Dorsa Mishler, Lagrange, Ind., is director of the unit, and Paul Conrad, M.D., Canby, Oreg., is head of the medical work. Latest arrivals in the unit are Daniel S. Sensenig, wife, and daughter, New Holland, Pa. Bro. Sensenig will be pastor of the unit and will look for opportunities to open mission work under the sponsorship of the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. There are now ten people in this unit.

4. India and China.—Our committee appointed a number of workers to each of these fields, but thus far they have largely been engaged in emergency work, under the Mennonite Central Committee. Until the refugee situation became serious as a result of the partition of India, some of our workers gave valuable service in the hospital and mission at Dhamtari.

5. Aid to Foreign Students in the United States. This year, as last year, our committee is giving aid to a number of foreign students who are enrolled in our colleges. Two thousand dollars have been appropriated for this purpose.

6. Service Units.—Since this type of work was begun by our committee in 1944, it has constantly been expanding. Last summer thirteen units were conducted in the following states: Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Arkansas, Alabama, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri, Kansas, and Texas. Nearly sixty people were engaged in this service, which embraces such activities as construction of buildings, caring for children, community survey, summer Bible school teaching, as well as other types of Christian service. A strong emphasis is placed upon evangelism and Bible teaching.

A new feature was added this past year when a service unit was placed at the Kansas City General Hospital, Kansas City, Mo., last November for a three-month term, with the privilege of workers giving an additional nine months as regular workers. Six workers served and five are continuing on for at least some time. This unit was somewhat experimental, but the results seem quite satisfactory.

7. Finances.—In order to care for the work to which the Relief Committee, with the approval of the Executive Committee of the Mission Board, has committed itself, which includes a proportionate share of expenses of the relief and refugee work carried on by the Mennonite Central Committee, the following monthly budget has been worked out:

Ethiopia .....	$2,250.00
Belgium .....	2,000.00
Poland .....	400.00
Refugees .....	7,000.00
Service Units .....	1,000.00
Mennonite Central Committee ..	5,000.00

$17,650.00

To meet this budget of $17,650 monthly, or $121,800 on a yearly basis, it was estimated that it would require approximately 50 cents per member per month on an average for the year beginning December 1, 1947. We feel sure the constituency of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities will readily make up this amount to support this program to help relieve the suffering in today's needy world. There are, of course, great opportunities to give additional gifts of food, clothing, shoes, implements, utensils, etc.

The Lord loves a cheerful giver. May we gladly and generously respond to the call of a world in great physical and spiritual need.

The Peace Problems Committee in 1947

By Amos S. Horst

The Peace Problems Committee had three regularly called meetings during the year 1947. The committee membership consisted of twelve brethren who resided in the United States and four in Canada. This number of members on the committee served very well during the years of World War II. The surge of military influence as it implicated our church has greatly increased the duties of our committee. The Executive Committee, as organized within the group, served in the general duties for the group between sessions. Three of the executive committee members were abroad in service assigned them by other groups. The duties assigned these brethren involved missions, our peace witness, and relief. The contacts and observations made by these brethren should prove valuable to our church in the years ahead.

The Pastoral Visitation and Policy committees gave their final reports in the April 17 meeting and were excused from their duties. The action at the August meeting of General Conference brought the committee membership back to the pre-1943 number, which now is organized as follows: Chairman, H. S. Bender; Vice-Chairman, Jesse B. Martin; Secretary, Orie O. Miller; Treasurer, C. L. Graber. The other members are: S. F. Coffman, John E. Lapp, H. A. Diener, A. L. Fretz, M. D. Stutzman, and Amos S. Horst.

The Selective Service and Training Act having terminated and the brethren having been released from C.P.S. have greatly reduced the duties of our committee. The camp at Malcolm, Neb., sponsored by our group, proved to be a profitable experience for us and the men in camp. The C.P.S. men seemed to appreciate the religious life program in this unit. Bible conferences and other religious services were conducted with more freedom than was possible in the larger units. The operating expense was higher per man per month as compared with the operating expenses of the larger units.

The Peace Section of the M.C.C. conducted a census of drafted men several years ago and now is repeating a similar effort since the draft has ceased. This report may be available later.

The national urge for military training in time of peace is one of the main concerns for the committee immediately ahead. We are trying to keep ourselves informed of any new developments on this movement and speak for the church where it may be thought necessary.

By action of the General Conference in August at Wooster, Ohio, the committee was authorized to prepare letters to be sent to Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America; Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service; and W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada. The letters expressed words of appreciation to these government officials for the consideration our brethren have received during the war years as related to the draft and the Christian conscience.

It is the aim of the committee to bring into completion several projects in providing more literature on Bible teaching on nonresistance. Melvin Gingerich is gathering material for a booklet, Heroes of Nonresistance. He is also gathering materials for a larger book on the subject of church and state. These two books should be ready for distribution sometime in 1948. The brethren Nelson Springer and Guy Hersherberger are working on plans and materials of historical facts as related to World War II. This book should be ready sometime in 1948.

We are trying to acquaint ourselves with the need of more material for teaching in the local congregation, clearing the Christian's attitude on war. During the years of World War II many of our ministers have not spoken in public meetings and consequently many young people have come through the years from twelve to eighteen with very little teaching and may have heard much propaganda favoring the war effort. Local ministers should acquaint themselves with material that may now be available and meanwhile the committee is acquiring information on what conferences are now doing to supply help in this field.

Our group is trying to follow the general lines of instruction received from the 1925 General Conference.

1. Promulgating the nonresistant doctrine of the Word of God in the church.

2. Representing the church to the state in the application of this doctrine.

3. Witnessing to others seeking light on these applications.

The committee invites your counsel and any information that you feel would be useful in this service. Your prayer-interest is hereby solicited for a further revelation of the mission of the church in time of war or peace.

The Mennonite Central Committee in 1947

By Ernest W. Lehman, Publicity Editor

During 1947 the Mennonite churches have extended the work of bringing aid to those who are in need. There has been a great opportunity for an outreach into new areas to be served and of developing further the work in the areas already served. We rejoice that there has been a steady flow of voluntary workers, ready and willing to give their services "In the Name of Christ" and also a continuing willingness on the part of our people to give in cash and kind for the support of the work. As in former years the various groups in the Mennonite family have unitedly responded to the call to work through this common agency.

This work has been carried on in the following eighteen foreign countries: Poland, Hungary, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark, Belgium, Germany, France, Holland, the Philippines, Java, India, China, Ethiopia, Puerto Rico, Brazil, and Paraguay. The nature and type of service has included food and clothing distribution, refugee welfare and resettlement, agricultural rehabilitation, child welfare, hospital and medical service, loan projects, transportation, building and reconstruction, and many other services. It will be noted that since the previous year, the work in England has been closed and projects have been opened in a number of other countries. Three workers entered Hungary in 1947 to open a program of food and clothing distribution. Four workers were sent to Brazil for a spiritual ministry among the Mennonites in that country. William Yoder has been in Java since his initial contact in that country in the spring of this year and will open an M.C.C. work as soon as conditions permit. With the moving of the European Center to Basel, Switzerland, a number of persons are located in that country. As of December 31, 1947, there were 288 workers located in M.C.C. relief units abroad. During the year contributions for relief purposes have totaled $936,786.33 in cash and $2,136,153.59 worth of materials in kind, making a grand total of over three million dollars.

One of the areas of work which expanded most significantly is that of aid to Mennonite refugees in Europe. During the year it has been possible to assist in the migration of a number of these refugees.

Although the needs abroad have been a primary concern of the Mennonite Central Committee, the needs next to our own doors have not been overlooked. Voluntary Service workers have served in projects of community welfare, sanitation, mental hospital service, religious instruction, and other activities. The work of peace teaching, counselling, education, and promotion among our people and among the Mennonites in other countries has been the interest of the Peace Section. A new concern is also growing, namely, that of church-sponsored mental institutions.

Contributions from the Mennonite constituent groups to the various aspects of the M.C.C. program have continued as in the previous year. The termination of C.P.S. permitted the various church groups to apply their resources in rather large amounts for relief, refugee migration, and other purposes.

A SURVEY OF THE M.C.C. PROGRAM

I. Relief Section

Europe.—Relief in Germany has eclipsed other parts of our program in total tonnage shipped and also in the number of workers on the field. Forty-three workers are responsible for the distribution of 4,538 tons' of food, clothing, and other supplies in Germany. All shipments continue to be made through C.R.A.L.O.G. channels, although this organization has recently received very little of our material for our distribution. We are still allocating small amounts of food and clothing to Evangelisches Hilfswerk, the Protestant relief organization. Christenpflicht, a German Mennonite relief organization in the American Zone, has been given food to carry on feeding programs in five different cities. Hilfswerk der Vereinigung Deutscher Mennoniten, the relief organization of the Palatinate Mennonites, has received M.C.C. food which was distributed in eight cities. M.C.C. workers have administered child-feeding programs in many of the large cities of the British and French zones. These cities include Kiel, Ludwigshafen, Lubeck, Krefeld, Kaiserslautern, and Gronau. In the month of June our workers supplied M.C.C. food to 80,000 people in Germany. These included children, old people, prisoners of war, convalescents, disabled, and refugees.

To Austria there have been shipments of 578 tons of food and clothing during the past year. For the most part distributions have been made to convalescents who were certified by examining physicians. Food is distributed according to the nature of the illness. The hospital program has reached 2,000 persons per week in addition to small amounts given to old and sick displaced persons and assistance to work camps.

In Hungary the work was opened in May by three workers. Food and clothing in the amount of 161 tons have been shipped for distribution in the past year. Child feeding programs have been carried on in a number of cities in co-operation with certain institutions, church conferences, family units, and feeding stations. Budapest is used as the center of activities with food and clothing contributed to an old teachers' home, an orphanage for Italian boys, a home for paroled boys, a girls' home, a home for blind, summer camps, and supplementary rations for university students.

The unit in Poland is located in a 420-acre farm with adequate housing facilities which was made available by the Polish government. In addition to clothing distributions which included 111 tons during the year, a program of agricultural rehabilitation was envisaged. Consequently, a 25-man tractor training unit was sponsored with the first men leaving this country in February.

The work in Italy saw a transition early in 1947 from refugee assistance in U.N.R.R.A. camps to assistance of the needy in the so-called Waldensian valleys in northern Italy. Forty-three tons of food and clothing were made available for distribution during the year. In addition to work among the refugees, U.N.R.R.A. camps, and material aid distribution, effort has been made to set up a nurses' training program.

The delay is due in part to the difficulties involved in securing approval from the government for a nurses' training school in a Waldensian hospital that lacks the specified bed capacity. Plans are underway to arrange for several Italian nurses to come to the United States and affiliate with our Mennonite hospitals in order to learn nursing techniques that will improve nursing standards in Italy.

The people in Holland have made excellent progress in postwar recovery. As a result very little material aid distribution was undertaken last year. Approximately fifty-four tons of clothing were distributed, but this was given for the most part to orphans and special needy individuals and refugees at Roverestein. Heerewegen is the new children's home we are operating in Holland. Energy is being concentrated on long-range programs such as the Amsterdam Center and the children's home. Activities covered by "The Center" include a student hospital, Menno Travel Service, and M.C.C. student exchange. The Walcheren Builders' Unit has been completely transferred with generous expressions of appreciation from the Mennonites of Walcheren.

In Belgium the activities are focussed on the building program which began in April. The Builders' Unit is located at Bullange and is patterned after the similar units in Holland and France. Because of the greater need in other areas of Europe, only eight tons of food and clothing were shipped to Belgium in the past year. Work in Belgium also included services to the prisoners of war and their families. Most of the relief activities in Belgium are under the sponsorship of the Mennonite Relief Committee.

In France the major project continues to be the children's colonies. During the year the homes of Vair and Vescours were closed. We have assumed full responsibility for the Weiler children's colony and after repeated requests are continuing to operate Lavercaintiere. The headquarters at Chalon-sur-Saone have been closed and a new center combining the relief offices and facilities for a children's home is being opened at Nancy. The general trend is to concentrate our efforts in an area which will serve and stimulate our French Mennonite Brethren. Approximately 21 tons of food and clothing were shipped into France last year making possible a five-month distribution of clothing within a radius of 125 miles from Chalon where 491 bales were distributed to 10,000 needy persons. A food-packaging program at St. Die is providing two four-pound packages to 4,000 old people. The Wissembourg Builders' Unit is continuing construction and repair activities which included repair of the Mennonite Church at Giesburg.

The major concern in Denmark has been the Prussian Mennonite refugees. Material aid distributions consisted of clothing and Christmas Goodwill Bundles. Activity was centered in clearing as many of the refugees as possible for migration. During the year, many of the Mennonite refugees were transferred to Germany. A spiritual ministry was provided in the persons of H. H. Janzen, J. J. Wichert, P. S. Goertz, and H. S. Bender.

Arnold Boecklinstrasse 11, Basel, Switzerland, continues to be the headquarters office for our European relief activities. Atlee Beech serves as European director. There are six M.C.C. workers here. The Basel Center, like the Amsterdam Center, will serve as liaison for European Mennonite activities.

Middle East.—The program in Ethiopia is composed of two phases—healing and teaching. A small clinic and hospital has been established at Nazareth. This clinic serves approximately 95 persons per day. The hospital has averaged a daily census of 30 patients. As the result of a malaria control program, 3,347 houses in the city of Nazareth were sprayed with D.D.T. A small shipment of three tons of clothing was made to this unit during the year. The teaching program includes a fully accredited primary dressers' course under the direction of Dorsa Mishler. Recently a class of 17 completed this course and are now certified as hospital workers. Supervised recreation is provided for the boy employees and needlework classes for the girl employees.

Far East.—In China the work might be characterized as rehabilitation. A total of 166 tons of food and clothing has been sent into the area for general distribution. Milk, to the extent of 4,500 servings per month was made available to the needy in Kaifeng. Rehabilitation is encouraged by wheat and cotton loans. Two hundred tons of seed wheat was distributed. In addition, 40,000 yards of cotton cloth and 15,000 pounds of woolen yarn were made available through Chinese sources. The medical program has included service in seven hospitals and clinics. Frequent military conflict has made it difficult to maintain these. An extensive U.N.R.R.A. tractor program was given assistance by four of our men serving as field men and mechanics. This included 38 tractors, machinery, tools, and other supplies.

The partitioning of India has made it necessary for us to change from a program of service in co-operation with Mennonite missions to one of emergency relief. An estimated 70,000,000 minority people were created as a result of the partition. Of these between six and eight million have become refugees as they fled from their homes. Refugee camps have been established to care for those in need of assistance. In these camps our workers together with other workers of relief and mission groups are distributing food and clothing and are giving medical assistance. One clinic reports an average of 1,000 patients per day over a 22-day period. Services include cholera injections, treatment of night wounds, accident and miscellaneous illnesses. During the past year, 41 tons of food and clothing have been shipped to India with two carloads of cereal en route now.

In the Philippine Islands we have maintained a hospital at Vigan and headquarters at Bangued. In October the hospital was moved to Bangued, thus consolidating our facilities. Only three tons of clothing have been sent to the Philippines this year, but this together with early shipments have made it possible to distribute clothing to 5,000 persons in Abra Province, which is one person out of seven in the area. A total of 1,600 pupils in seven schools are receiving daily rations of milk as a result of our program. Emergency assistance in the form of shelter and milk was given to 150 victims of a recent typhoon.

The relief program earlier planned for Java has not yet begun due to the political situation in the Dutch East Indies. William Yoder is in Batavia standing by and planning for relief activities just as soon as conditions are favorable. The group of five workers sent out for Java this summer are rendering valuable service in India. We have a shipment of food stencilled and ready to go just as soon as there is an opportunity to begin relief activities.

Latin America—The program in Paraguay continues to serve both the Mennonites and Paraguayans with increased emphasis placed upon the refugee and his problems. An experimental farm in Fernheim with at least 21 acres fenced is making an increasing significant contribution to the colonies in the way of agricultural guidance. Although the need for teachers from North America has eased, we still have four teachers who are continuing their services in the Chaco. A hospital and laboratory in Fernheim is serving approximately 6,000 Mennonites within a 22-mile radius. The telephone equipment actually arrived in the Chaco in March and the line is nearing completion. Twelve tons of clothing were shipped during the year. Work with the Paraguayans has included a hookworm project and a child-feeding program. The civil war which started in March caused considerable disruption and some hardships until it was terminated. The Asuncion office with its workers is extending its services to young people's groups in the cities in supplying recreational and religious activities.

The services in Puerto Rico continue much the same as in previous years and are mostly along the line of rehabilitation and include a hospital and laboratory, clinic, dental service, medical social work, community recreation, public school nursing, sewing and needlework, public health and sanitation, and agricultural experimentation. During the past year, the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities supplied a pastor for the La Plata Valley Area. Arrangements have been made for the Mission Board to purchase the P.R.R.A. property now occupied by the unit. Noteworthy is the fact that the Mennonite Central Committee and the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities have been granted a tax exempt status on the island. A personnel turnover during 1947 was 23 workers leaving and seventeen replacements.

Four workers were sent to Brazil by the M.C.C. during the year. These people are serving in both a preaching and teaching ministry among the Mennonites of Brazil.

Material Aid Program.—This year our people were encouraged to give only the very basic and concentrated foods rather than any and all kinds as was the case in previous years. In spite of this, foods came into the warehouses in a large stream; and although the total tonnage is a little below that of 1946, the total actual food value is probably the greatest that M.C.O. has shipped in any one year. Meat, flour, dried vegetables and fruits, were leading contributions throughout the year. Clothing contributions fluctuated considerably during the year, but the total for the year was larger than anticipated. During the year three children's projects were sponsored which met with enthusiastic support: Christmas Bundles, School Bags, and Play Equipment.

Material aid collection centers are located at: Silver Springs, Pa.; Ephrata, Pa.; Goshen, Ind.; Newton, Kans.; Reedley, Calif.; Kitchener, Ont.; and Winnipeg, Man. There are two semitrucks operating in the United States between warehouses and shipping ports. Thirty-three people are actively engaged in packing and shipping of material aid. On next page is a summary giving the evaluation of the material aid shipped during the year for each country.

II. Mennonite Aid Section

Establishing the eligibility of our Mennonite refugees for international assistance (first from the Intergovernmental Committee on Refugees and later from the International Refugee Organization) was the most significant development of 1947, because on this question depended the measure of outside financial assistance that would be given our program. The international refugee bodies are not permitted to assist persons of German ethnical origin. Hence, it was necessary that we establish the Dutch ethnical origin of our people. A petition was first filed with the Intergovernmental Committee on Refugees in February, 1947, requesting financial help for the S.S. Volendam movement to South America. We received a favorable decision and a grant of 40,000 pounds sterling or the equivalent of $160,000 as partial assistance for the movement. The International Refugee Organization, the successor organization to the Intergovernmental Committee on Refugees, has also determined our people eligible for assistance. During the year our people contributed $554,272.35 for refugee migration work, and an additional amount of $85,295 was made available for use through ten-year loans.

The most significant movement of our refugees was the Volendam group under the leadership of Peter and Elfrieda Dyck. Peter has presented this story to a large part of our constituency before returning to Europe for further refugee migration service. The dramatic departure of the 1,000 refugees from Berlin and later the 2,305 from Bremerhaven, the reception in Buenos Aires, and their trials during the period of revolution in Paraguay from March to August, were experiences in which the faith of all was sorely tried. Canada began taking refugees in larger numbers during 1947, but the number in view of the large refugee population in Europe has been small. It is significant that Canadian immigration is increasing and we may expect that the number of Mennonite immigrants admitted will grow proportionately. During the year, 483 Mennonite refugees were able to enter Canada. The United States Government receives immigrants on a quota basis and since practically all our refugees come under the Russia quota, which is exceedingly small, we have not been able to bring more than 36 to the United States during the past year.

Two refugee camps were opened by M.C.C. during 1947, the first at Gronau in the British Zone in charge of Siegfried and Margaret Janzen; the Backnang Camp in the United States Zone is in charge of Elfrieda Dyck.

Mennonite Resettlement Finance, Inc., was established during the past year to act as trustee of Mennonite Central Committee funds and property devoted to the migration and resettlement of Mennonite refugees.

Efforts were made to open refugee resettlement not only in Paraguay, Canada, and the United States, but also in Mexico, Brazil, and Argentina. The efforts in the case of the latter three countries have not been successful as yet.

III. Peace Section

The Peace Section is concerned primarily with the promotion of the nonresistant faith among our people. Efforts are made to keep interested groups informed of developments on such matters as affect our peace position locally or nationally, to express our conviction and witness to government and to study further the nonresistant way of life. In addition to this work among our people at home, the ministry has been extended to our Mennonite brethren in Europe and South America. H. S. Bender has been working in Europe since May in order to help revitalize the nonresistant belief. C. J. Rempel spent the summer months in Paraguay on a similar mission. In order to facilitate work of this nature a German translation of the booklet Must Christians Fight has been completed and publication of the booklet will be realized in the near future. Funds contributed for this purpose totalled $3,159.19.

IV. Civilian Public Service

The Civilian Public Service program came to an official end March 29, 1947. The life span of C.P.S. thus fell short one month of reaching six full years. The Mennonite Central Committee operated 66 of the total number of base camps, units, and special projects. Of the 12,000 men who served in C.P.S. approximately 5,830 participated in M.C.C. operated camps at some time or another. In order to operate this large number of camps, it was necessary to recruit 192 directors and assistant directors and 242 educational directors. Altogether, it cost $3,155,000 to finance this program and this large sum was obtained entirely through the voluntary contributions of the Mennonite and Brethren in Christ churches.

V. Voluntary Service

A number of young people have been challenged to continue certain projects in which certain C.P.S. men had served. This includes work of various types such as attendant work in mental institutions, community welfare work, visual education, community education, sanitation work, and other activities. Among the 1947 summer service units were: Cleveland State Hospital; Colorado State Hospital; Skillman State Village for Epileptics; Gulfport, Mississippi; Cuauhtemoc, Mexico; and Akron, Pennsylvania. Workers also served on a one-year basis at Gulfport, Mississippi, and Cuauhtemoc, Mexico. Several voluntary service workers have been assisting in the development of the Brook Lane Farm, a home for mentally ill.

One arrangement providing opportunities for short-term service during some season other than summer has been that of the year-round seasonal unit. The Skillman Unit has been chosen for the location of this year-round service arrangement in which workers may join the unit for any of the four service terms of the year. At Gulfport a winter unit of six months duration was planned also. It was felt that this voluntary service program is a channel through which a demonstration of our Christian concern and witness can be given to these underprivileged and distressed areas and at the same time provide a source of inspiration and growth for those young people who participate.

VI. Mental Health Service

Also growing out of the C.P.S. experience has been the progress toward the establishment of Mennonite Homes for Mentally-ill. During the past year this idea has developed into concrete form in the conversion of the former C.P.S. camp at Hagerstown, Maryland, into the Brook

Lane Farm, a home for mentally ill. Definite plans are under way also to establish a Mennonite hospital in California.

VII. Menno Travel Service

In view of the large number of personnel travelling abroad on M.C.C. assignments and similar travel by other workers of the church, business men, tourists, etc., it has been felt that a service can be rendered also in this area. Menno Travel Service has been organized somewhat independent of the M.C.C. and provides service to its patrons on a cost basis. Since its organization, it has planned for travel arrangements for many M.C.C. workers, missionaries, private tourists, students, and other travellers.

Mennonite Board of Education

By D. A. Yoder, President

The Mennonite Board of Education is an organization sponsored by the Mennonite General Conference. It is composed of thirty-four members representing the following: General Conference, sixteen individual conferences, the alumni associations of Goshen and Hesston colleges, two ex-officio members from each college under the Board, and four members at large.

Years ago some of the Mennonite leaders saw a need for schools which would be under the direction of the Church. Her young people were getting their education in state and denominational schools other than our own. The state schools were interested in scholastic rather than spiritual emphasis and the denominational schools stressed their own views and as a result some of our young people were drawn away from the teachings of the Word as believed and practiced by the Mennonite Church. Because of this condition and an increasing interest in education, the Mennonite Board of Education was organized with the purpose as stated in the preamble of its constitution, "in order to foster and safeguard through Christian education the cause of Christ in accordance with the faith and practice of the Mennonite Church." In a further reading of the purposes of the Board, we note three emphases: (1) our young people acquiring an education; (2) the courses of study; and (3) the BIBLE a prominent place in the curriculums. A common emphasis in the three statements is the preparation for efficient service to God and man which is consistent with the faith and practices of the Mennonite Church as taught in the Word of God.

The time was when most of our people lived in the rural communities, but this condition has changed. Since many people are attracted to the city and are entering vocations and professions, more education than was once believed is necessary. Since the only place where we can give a Christian witness is "in the world," it is necessary that we have adequate Christian preparation. This preparation should be in our churches and in schools conducted by our own church according to Mennonite ideals. In recent years a wide interest has been shown among our people in favor of both secondary and primary schools and such schools have been established in different sections of the Church and under local direction. Because of this increased interest in the field of Christian education, it was the conviction among some that there should be a united church-wide effort in the educational field. Therefore the annual meeting of the Board in 1947 devoted an entire session to the discussion of the subject, "The Possibility of a United Church-wide Educational Program." Out of this and other discussions came the action of General Conference recognizing the Board of Education as the agency responsible for the co-ordination of the school program of the Church.

In the past several years the enrollment in the colleges has reached an all-time high, and with this increased enrollment the Board has been confronted with a number of problems which may be placed into three divisions: physical, intellectual, and spiritual. In educational work the three cannot be separated but must be considered in the light of the needs as they confront us. Larger enrollment requires more housing facilities and equipment, more instructors to meet the needs of students and demands of the educational agencies and the constituency, and with these the spiritual needs become increasingly important. We wish to present the three in the order presented.

Our school plants were originally planned for a much smaller student body. The recent growth had not been anticipated. An increasing number of our Mennonite young people are going to college and along with these there are others who desire the advantages of a Christian education. Although the number must be kept to a minimum, we want to be able to give our testimony to them also. To meet these needs both Goshen and Hesston college have need of more buildings and facilities. A building program has been launched at both places beginning with much needed auditorium-gymnasiums. These buildings are to serve several purposes. As the name suggests, they are to serve as the physical educational centers for the schools of adequate size to keep school athletics on an intramural basis. They are also to serve as an auditorium for the larger gatherings during the school year. Hesston has provided a kitchen with modern equipment, a dining room, and offices and space for classrooms in the building already erected. Along with plans for the auditorium-gymnasium, Goshen is planning for a student center, bookstore, post office, additional classrooms and offices in the same structure. These buildings are immediate needs as they will release space in the other buildings for classes and offices. Since the body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, it should be kept in good physical condition. These buildings are a step in the right direction. The Board realizes that its task is a constant one and needs will increase as time goes on. We are not favored with money as a state institution, so we must continually come to the Church for added funds. The Church is giving largely but sometimes we are inclined to think that not enough of this money is used in the preparation of our youth for Christian service. There are other needs such as dormitories, classrooms, and equipment. We trust that in due time these can be supplied.

Our young people are deserving of the best in preparation for their lifework. We may provide the best facilities for physical education but along with this provision we must also consider and provide for the intellectual. We are a people who will spend money, but we also want adequate returns. A number of years ago Goshen College was accredited by the N.C.A. which gives the graduates recognition throughout the area of N.C.A. influence. Hesston was also granted accreditation by the Kansas State Board of Education. This gives the graduates of Hesston advantages which they would otherwise not have. Because of these accreditments the graduates have better opportunities for positions and will be able to give testimony in wider fields of service.

To meet the standards for recognition, it is required that we have instructors who are highly qualified in their fields. This requires scholastic training, a spirit of devotion which will enable them to see farther than just the salary, and a spirit which will enable them to see the finished product, young men and women devoted to the cause of Christ and the Church. We need more men and women who have ability, training, a vision of the needs of the Mennonite Church and a will to serve. We also need Board members who are vitally interested in the work, and a constituency who will give means so that men of ability can serve without a financial hardship which is greater than others have. Our schools are continually looking for more qualified faculties. This need is evidenced continually because of the increased demands of the Church. More fields of service in the Church and more avenues of making a livelihood in which Mennonite principles can be lived make it imperative that various types of instruction can be given. This will require more courses of study, more faculty members, and more money. Will we as a Church meet the need? This apparent need should be a challenge to every member of the Mennonite Church. We are in a changing world but not a changing Word. Can we as a Board meet these challenges keeping in mind the prayer of Jesus, "I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil."

In recent years collegiate training in nursing has become an evident need. We believe that nursing is a profession where our sisters can give a testimony for the Lord and the Church. Therefore provisions are made in both schools under the Board to meet this need. Many of our young women are contemplating this service in many parts of the world, and as a Church we need meet the added challenge with prayers, moral support, and money.

We approach the third emphasis, the spiritual. Provisions for the physical and intellectual needs of youth and the neglect of the spiritual are a waste of energy and money so far as the cause of Christ is concerned. The state schools are prepared to provide either of the first two more readily than we can because they are tax supported. Hence it is the spiritual need that gives rise to the necessity of a church college. The Board is continually keeping in mind the needs of young people in the Mennonite Church so that they may come back to us in our churches and serve in the home communities as well as in other places. Too often the other fields are placed in the foreground and the home field forgotten. It is time that in our schools more emphasis be placed on the spiritual needs at home. Not making the other less but the home more. Neglect of the home field will cause all other fields to suffer.

Our schools have their meetings for the deepening of the spiritual life of the students and faculty. These meetings are sources of satisfaction to the Board and bring many favorable comments. In the 1947 Board meeting the following action was taken: "That the Board favors a Religious Welfare Survey of the schools under its control, this to be a survey by each school in co-operation with a survey committee of the Board." "The purpose of this survey would be to study Religious Welfare program of each school with a view to its strengthening. It would include a survey of its objectives, degrees of success in attaining objectives, methods used, etc. It would deal with spiritual, promotion of Christian ideals of conduct and service, devotion to Mennonite principles, production of workers for the church, missionary zeal, etc." (Board Meeting Report 1947, page 12). The Education Counseling Committee was appointed by General Conference and consists of the following: Paul Erb, George R. Brunk, Chester K. Lehman, Carl Kreider, and Ivan Lind. The Executive Committee of the Board added the names of Nelson Kauffman and Noah Good making a committee of seven. The above committee is assuming its task with the hope of strengthening the spiritual life of the entire body of our schools.

To bring about the aims of the Board we need a continued and greater co-operation between the bodies concerned. Individual members of the Board need to have a greater concern; the schools need to emphasize the ideals of the Word as held by the Mennonite Church; and the constituent bodies need continually to keep in mind our needs. We are grateful for all the support given the Board in its different educational projects. Looking forward to a continued growth and a larger service for the cause of Christ and the Mennonite Church, we crave an interest in your prayers through the coming years.

Mennonite Publication Board

By O. N. Johns, Secretary

The Mennonite Publication Board, as an organization of the church, is endeavoring to function as a servant from year to year. One of the outstanding accomplishments of the Board during the last year was the revision of the constitution in which a number of changes have been made. The Board now will meet annually instead of biennially. Each district conference under General Conference, or each conference eligible to representation on General Conference, may elect one member to the Board for each 5,000 members or fraction thereof. The General Conference elects three members and the Board elects five members at large. In the organization of the Publishing House there is a Publishing Agent instead of a General Manager of the House. The officers of the House shall be appointed annually by the Executive Committee of the Board with the approval of the Board. The detailed organization of the House is left with the Executive Committee of the Board and the Publishing Agent.

Under the new constitution the Executive Committee of the Board consists of the officers of the Board: President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, and a fifth member elected by the Board for this purpose. The Publishing Committee now has five members instead of seven and the Tract Committee has three instead of seven.

The Board recognizes the Curriculum Committee of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work as the official committee which is responsible for planning the courses of study in Christian education literature to be used in the teaching agencies of the local congregation. It will present its major recommendations to the Publishing Agent and shall counsel the editors and writers of Christian education literature. This committee shall be held responsible to see that the contents of Christian education literature are in harmony with the Word of God as it is interpreted by the Mennonite Church. The Executive Committee appoints two persons to serve on the Curriculum Committee of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work.

At the meeting in Elkhart, Indiana, in 1944, the Publication Board took action favoring the erecting of an annex to our present building at Scottdale. Because of building conditions, the work has been delayed. During this past year the Board authorized the building of the annex to the present building at an approximate cost of $170,000. The Building Committee has been appointed and consists of the following: Secretary and Treasurer of the Board, and the Publishing Agent, Secretary, and Treasurer of the House. At the time of this writing, the building plans are in the hands of the architect for making the final blueprints.

The annex will be 72 feet by 88 feet and will be erected on the west side of the present building. It is to be a two-story building with a basement. In order to proceed with this building program, about $100,000 in donations from the church will be needed. For many years now the Board has been making donations to the church instead of asking for the same. We are endeavoring to raise this amount without direct personal solicitation. We can do it if we are all so minded.

We are living in good days, financially speaking, but these days may not last long. We want to keep this in mind. During the past year our bookstores have made us a nice net income. The manufacturing plant has not brought in such large returns. The delay in getting out our new summer Bible school courses is partly responsible for this. It is planned that these materials be ready for use by this coming summer.

Some of the recent publications are: The John Horsch Memorial Papers, Glimpses of Mennonite History and Doctrine, and Junior Hymns. The Program Builder became a quarterly publication beginning January 1, 1948. The Christian Ministry, a new ministers' magazine, was first issued in January, 1948. This is to be a quarterly publication. John R. Mumaw is the editor. There has been a call and a need for this magazine for some time already, but the Board did not see its way clear for the launching of the same. It will not be a money-making project, but we hope the help and encouragement it will give to ministers and lay workers will well repay the efforts and cost.

Consideration was given to having a separate mission publication instead of the supplement to the Gospel Herald. The final conclusion was to make Christian Missions a regular part of the Gospel Herald with Ford Berg as editor. This section is sponsored by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities.

Action has been taken for the establishing of a branch bookstore in Canton, Ohio. Thus far we have been unable to secure a suitable location for such a store. This is the reason for the delay.

We have realized and enjoyed the Lord's blessings during the year and we are grateful for the same. The Board is not without problems. We solicit your prayers and support in this work. We appreciate and thank you for the good support you have given us in the past. We believe you will continue in so doing. Any helpful suggestions you may be able to give us will be appreciated. We are laborers together with God. That the Lord will continue to bless the work, is our prayer.

Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work

By Nelson E. Kauffman, Field Secretary

This organization was brought into being by General Conference in its regular session at Turner, Oreg., in 1937. The purpose of this organization was to correlate and integrate all the planning for, and promotion of, the Christian education activities in the congregation. Previously, General Conference had standing committees in the fields of Sunday school, young people's Bible meetings, and young people's problems, and each was under no obligation to work a co-operative program with the other. The Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work took over the work of all these committees as well as other work assigned to it later. A constitution was tentatively adopted and at Wellman, Iowa, in 1941, General Conference accepted the constitution as presented by a revision committee. The two principal tasks of the Commission are to provide teaching materials for the teaching agencies of the church, and to promote these agencies such as Sunday schools, summer Bible schools, study classes, etc., with congregations.

Now, after ten years, the Commission has found its place in the work of the church, and General Conference committees depend upon it to do effective work in its prescribed areas. The Commission is definitely concerned with the teaching activities of our congregations. It is not attempting to suggest that others may do the work of the minister, but it is attempting to provide materials for means which the pastor, under God, may use to direct the work of the congregation, that the Word of God may be taught effectively to the building of faith in saints and providing grounds for conviction in sinners.

After one decade of service to the church, the Commission has committed itself to a restudy of its objectives and a review of the extent to which those objectives have been attained so that the future work may be planned in the light of past experiences. It is the conviction of those responsible for this work that one of the areas of greatest need and opportunity for church building in the immediate future is the strengthening of our congregational life and witness. In the past fifty years, church-wide organizations have developed to serve in all the major areas. These all depend for their existence and service upon the local church, and demand a more vital, spiritual, and growing congregational life.

Means and Methods of Work

The Commission carries on its work by means of divisional secretaries who are responsible to serve in the various areas. Each divisional secretary brings a report to each biannual meeting. In this report he reviews the past activities and also makes recommendations for the future work of his area. The whole group of brethren then examine the recommendations and if acceptable, they are passed by motion and vote.

At its 1947 fall meeting, the Commission voted to discontinue the Secretaryship of Statistics and use the statistician of the Publishing House in this area, since he gathers statistics for the annual statistical publication of the church, and the Mennonite Yearbook and Directory, and since some of the same compilations are used in the Commission annual.

The Secretary of Young People's Activities in the 1947 spring meeting proposed to the Commission plans for the establishment of a church-wide Mennonite Youth Fellowship to have as little over-all organization as compatible with the objectives of the Fellowship. The plan was presented to General Conference at Wooster, Ohio, in August, 1947. This body approved the plan. Thus the Commission in October set up a council to provide organization and officers to promote the work throughout the church. Local groups, as literary societies, Christian workers' bands, tract bands, or any other local organization which functions satisfactorily may become an affiliate of the Fellowship. This simple organizational connection will encourage local initiative and yet make possible guidance by, and co-operation with, the church-wide group.

The Commission functions regularly as a committee of the whole. Occasionally the Executive Committee composed of chairman, vice-chairman, secretary-treasurer, and field secretary, make interim decisions. The field secretary is charged with the responsibility of being the chief executive officer of the Commission, making field contacts and co-operating with each divisional secretary in discharging his respective responsibility.

It has been the policy of the Commission to reach the congregation through the district conference, Sunday-school, or Christian workers' organization. For example, the Secretary of Sunday Schools gathers statistics and makes recommendations for improving Sunday schools through the secretaries of the district workers' conferences.

The Commission and the Mennonite Publishing House work together closely. The Curriculum Committee, composed of two House appointees, two Commission appointees, and the field secretary ex-officio member, is chiefly a planning committee. It has planned courses for our summer Bible schools and Christian workers' training classes; it reviews the topics prepared by the Young People's Bible Meeting Committee, as well as those of the Junior Bible Meeting Topics Committee and reviews and makes changes or substitutions in our Sunday-school lessons. The Publishing House hires the editors and publishes the materials.

A major project of the Commission and Publishing House being completed at present is the production of a new summer Bible school course. This has involved no small investment of time, planning, study, and money. Other projects under way at the present time are the production of graded Sunday-school lessons for three-, four-, and five-year-old children, the plans for the production of a young people's quarterly, and the publishing of a monthly teachers' magazine to displace our present teachers' quarterlies. The Commission recommended these new publications to the Publication Board. The Board agreed to publish these periodicals as soon as their content is determined by the Curriculum Committee and editors are secured by the Publishing House.

The entire Commission membership is keenly aware of the immensity of the task assigned to it. We realize that organization and promotion of activities are but futile efforts to meet the needs of the souls of men unless they are instruments of the Holy Spirit. The presence of machinery in the church is neither positive evidence of the Spirit's working nor conclusive proof of His absence. Our organizations may be mighty tools in the Spirit's hands or they may be mere human devices. The Commission has always prepared for its work by unhurried periods of devotion and prayer, encouraging each member to participate in complete reliance upon God. We covet the prayers of the church. The work of no organization of the church is more used for the weekly services in our congregations. This demands prayer help and for this and other reasons the Commission has chosen prayer for the major emphasis in 1948.

"Helping Together by Prayer"

There is possibly no Christian duty and privilege in which we so much face as in this. We feel we should pray; we talk about it and lament the lack of it, yet continue to allow ourselves to be too occupied with other things to pray more than a few spare moments.

We wish this year to encourage not only the considerations of topics on prayer in our conferences but to urge our people to prolonged seasons of actual prayer and intercession. We wish to encourage the reading of books on prayer, the study of lives of men of prayer, and the calling of meetings for prayer. This will require the co-operation of all persons responsible in our congregational organizations.

There can be no substitute for the leadership. The minister is responsible to provide in this prayer help. He must give himself to much prayer if his congregation is to catch any spirit of prayer from him. The congregation can easily detect the prayerfulness or lack of prayer in the pastor. He should be most interested in having a live, dynamic prayer meeting, a real meeting for prayer, and not a dry theological discussion. Prayers should be offered privately and in prayer meeting for all teachers, parents, church officers, church boards, committees, writers, and editors, that through the service each renders the Gospel light of the knowledge of God and of Jesus His Son may continue to shine brightly till the return of the Lord in glory. May we help together by prayer until He comes!

Activities of Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities for 1947

By Henry F. Garber, President

The year has come and is gone. The record is complete. Under the guidance of the Holy Spirit these activities can advance the kingdom of God on earth. Our earnest prayer is that the material of the structure that we build on the foundation is not "wood, hay, or stubble."

Building

There are several building projects in progress. At Rawlinsville and at Cocalico the mission congregations worshiped in community churches. This was no longer satisfactory. New church houses are being built at these places and will be completed soon. Two church buildings were purchased during the year, one at Mt. Vernon and the other at Laurel Street in Lancaster. These meetinghouses will make services much more satisfactory.

Missionary Training Institute

This type of school is a new development in the Mennonite Church. It combines Bible instruction and practical experience. The school was held at Norris Square Mission in Philadelphia. It lasted one week. The city gave opportunity for the observation and practice of almost every form of mission activity. The morning was devoted to Bible teaching and instruction on various phases of mission work. The afternoon and evening were given over to practical work in the city and to reports on the activities and the problems met.

About twenty-five young people were invited to attend this school. It was held Aug. 4-11. Although it was a very busy week, teachers and students all felt that it was a very fine project. It will likely be repeated next year with another group of young people.

Jewish Work

Our Jewish committee is active. There have been several additional part-time workers appointed. The field is enlarging. Isaac Baer, who was ordained to the ministry for Jewish work, was sent to Europe to do relief work under Mennonite Central Committee. It is hoped that this may be an entering wedge to do mission work among the Jews of Europe. "The time of Jacob's trouble" ought to be an opportune time to present to them our Lord Jesus Christ.

Deputation Visit

After nine years a second deputation visit was made to our African fields. Amos Horst and J. Paul Graybill represented our conference and Orie O. Miller represented our Mission Board. They were present during the Tanganyika annual conference. These visits were very helpful to the mission and to the home boards. They also visited Ethiopia where relief work is being carried on by M.C.C. Also included in their itinerary was a visit to the relief projects of M.C.C. in Europe. They have all returned, being much impressed with the material and spiritual needs in many places in the world.

Ethiopia

By agreement with the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, mission work will be carried on in Ethiopia by our Board. At this writing Daniel Sensenig and wife are being sent to this field as our first representatives. Others will likely be sent during 1948.

Tanganyika

There are, at this writing, twenty adult missionaries on the field, eight on furlough, and three new missionaries under appointment. There are twenty-two missionaries' children. Travel has improved much since the close of the war. The overdue furloughs are about all taken care of now. The government drive for literacy in Africa makes necessary the providing of better facilities for schools. The mission is attempting to do this as rapidly as possible. The new school for the children of missionaries is in operation, although it is doing so in temporary housing at present. The spirit of revival and evangelism is very evident on the field, both among the missionaries and in the native church. For this we praise the Lord.

The Last Summons.

During the year one of the pioneers on the Tanganyika field was called to her reward. Elizabeth Stauffer, wife of Elam W. Stauffer, was a faithful missionary for thirteen years in Tanganyika. During her second term she served under severe handicaps and now the Lord graciously took her home to be with Himself.

At home, Sem Eby, treasurer of our Board gave his fourteenth and last annual report last March at the Mount Joy annual meeting. He went home, took sick that evening, and one week later he, too, went to be with his Lord. He was a charter member of the Board and was beloved by all. He is missed in many circles. His stepson, Ira J. Buckwalter, who was assistant treasurer for several years, now succeeds him as treasurer of the Board.

Anna Mellinger, for many years treasurer of our Associated Sewing Circles and manager of the Paradise Cutting Room was also called up higher during the year. Very many sewing circles had their garments cut at Paradise. She filled an important place in the women's activities in the church.

Finance

During this inflationary period we, too, have felt the effects of higher prices—in building costs, in living costs, in travel costs, in fact in every area we have had to face higher costs. But we are glad that the Church has stood by. The year is not complete but there will be approximately $275,000 passing through the treasurer's office during the year. Large amounts were given for food for relief and other war refugee purposes. But the Church has also provided enough for the building program and for the direct evangelistic efforts of our work. May God reward every helper. We have the assurance of Scripture that "God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work" (II Cor. 9:8).

Eastern Mennonite College

By D. Ralph Hostetter, Director of High School

We rejoice in the many blessings the Lord has showered upon Eastern Mennonite College. The lack of qualified available teachers, the high cost of building materials, and the scarcity of labor have prevented us from making the progress we had planned. Nevertheless, we have gone forward materially, and we hope spiritually. The Lord has made it possible for us to increase our teaching staff, to provide more classroom space, and to supply the necessary physical equipment.

Eastern Mennonite School, as a name, is now history. By action of the Virginia Conference, the school is now officially known as Eastern Mennonite College, which includes a High School Department and Bible Correspondence Department.

Enrollment

The total enrollment for the first semester 1947-48 is distributed as follows:

College Department	Men	Women	Total
College Bible	44	15	59
Junior College Bible	12	27	39
Senior College	24	46	70
Junior College	5	7	12
Part-time, Special, and Extension	7	4	11
Totals	92	99	191

High School Department

Senior Class	24	42	66
Junior Class	26	48	74
Sophomore Class	20	20	40
Freshman Class	25	16	41
Special	1	13	14
High School Bible	4	8	12
Totals	100	147	247
Total Enrollment			438

We are grateful for this large enrollment which presents a challenge to us spiritually, educationally, and for victorious living.

Bible Correspondence Department

Eastern Mennonite College encourages those who cannot attend school in residence to become a member of our family by enrolling in our Bible Correspondence Department. At present 125 young men and women are using this method to increase their knowledge of the Word of God, and consequently enhance their usefulness in the church.

The Faculty

The teaching staff consists of twenty-seven consecrated men and women besides three assistants. These instructors keenly feel their responsibility in training the youth of our church for Christian living and for Christian work and responsibilities.

We welcome to our faculty this year B. Charles Hostetter, Clarence Fretz, Hubert Pellman, Otis Yoder, Ada Zimmerman, Ethel (Mrs.) Strite, and Virginia (Mrs.) Weaver. These teachers greatly relieve our overworked members of the staff and fill the vacancies caused by several of our teachers who are on leave of absence for advanced study, namely, John R. Mumaw, who is enrolled as a research student in American Theological Seminary, St. Augustine, Fla.; Mary Emma Showalter, who is doing graduate work in home economics at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn.; and Daniel B. Suter, who is studying biology in the graduate school of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. In addition to the teaching staff, our faculty includes the business manager, librarian, and deans of men and women.

Joseph Baer and Elam Hertzler are assistants in the laboratories, the former in biology and chemistry, the latter in physics. Mrs. Stanley Shenk assists in the Business Course as teacher of Typing II.

The Library

The efficiency of any teaching staff may well be judged by its library. The 10,089 books on the shelves together with the 144 periodicals coming to the library regularly provide ample sources for supplementary reading, research, and advanced study. In order to make accessible to our students the very best and latest contributions in the various areas of knowledge and research, the library program includes the accession of twelve to fifteen hundred additional volumes during this year.

Building Program

Pertinent building needs include a girl's dormitory, science building, gymnasium, and Bible school building. Due to scarcity of materials and high labor costs, we have been able to erect only one new building. We have, however, purchased several government buildings formerly used by the Civilian Conservation Corps. These have been reconstructed to meet our immediate needs. One large building furnishes us with a large classroom and a new modern, up-to-date Home Economics laboratory. A smaller building provides dressing rooms to our gymnasium.

Changes have also been made in the administration building, which provide a much larger and more modern kitchen, better laundry facilities, and an additional classroom. In a near-by wood lot adjoining the campus, an apartment house for married students is under construction and will be ready for occupancy by New Year. It will provide living accommodations for forty students and will be used as a girls' cottage-dormitory until the girls' dormitory is available. We are thankful for these increased facilities and hope that we can soon inaugurate our large-scale building program. Plans are already being made to employ a full-time financial field man who will make a definite study of future needs of the College and initiate a suitable solicitation campaign.

Extracurricular Activities

In order to satisfy the special interests and talents of students, various extracurricular activities are provided, both religious and nonreligious. Among the former may be mentioned the Bible Fellowships which stress interests in a devotional study of the Bible; deeper interest in a lifework; acquaintance with the Mennonite Church, its organization and activities; a deeper prayer life. Other groups are interested in Mennonite history and Christian literature. In the area of the nonreligious we have the Astral, Avian, Nature and Debating societies, and organized groups interested in social games, woodcraft, and panel discussion of vital, timely issues of the groups' own choosing. Each group meets once a month under faculty sponsorship.

Five literary societies are organized to provide student training in accuracy and fluency of speech, in the use of argument, and in effective singing. These meet twice a month.

Spiritual refreshment and soul-enriching experiences are afforded through the Friday morning devotional periods, prayer circles, and Sunday evening young peoples' Bible meetings.

Special Conferences

Due to the great popularity of, and the increasing interest in, the Christian Day School, Eastern Mennonite College sponsored a Christian Day School Conference on November 27-29. During this conference there were displays of teaching materials, teaching demonstrations, discussions of Christian day school standards and policies, section meetings and workshops relative to elementary education.

The great interest in world-wide missionary activities is partly responsible for the Evangelism Conference to be held on the campus January 31-February 1, 1948. Able speakers are engaged to discuss Jewish, Literature, Rural, City, Intinerant, Foreign, Personal, and End-time Evangelism.

The College Department

Eastern Mennonite College is growing from a junior college to a standard four-year senior college although continuing to offer the junior college courses. Advanced work has already been offered and by the close of the current session we hope to confer our first academic degree. A committee appointed by the Virginia State Board of Education, Richmond, responded to our invitation to visit the school for the purpose of determining whether or not Eastern Mennonite College met the requirements for approval as a four-year college. At once correspondence from the State Board indicated that the committee was highly appreciative of our work. In due time we received word to the effect that Eastern Mennonite College is authorized to grant the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Bachelor of Religious Education, together with conditional approval for granting the Bachelor of Theology Degree. We praise the Lord! With this authority to grant degrees we accept the challenge to greater scholarship and efficiency.

The curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts prepares the student for richer Christian living, for more advanced study in the various arts and areas such as English, foreign language, social studies and philosophy, and for an appreciation of the world in which he lives.

Two curriculums lead to the Bachelor of Science in Education. The need for Christian elementary schoolteachers in our mountain districts and in our rural mission areas is all too evident. We encourage our young people to give serious consideration to this kind of Christian service. One of the two education curriculums is especially adapted to train teachers for this type of work.

Eastern Mennonite College gives the strongest encouragement and support to the Christian day school movement which is so rapidly gaining favor in the Mennonite Church. A curriculum is provided which gives the special training necessary for one to render the peculiar service required of a teacher in a Mennonite day school. This curriculum differs from the one above in substituting Bible and specialized courses in the Christian day school for some of the more general courses. This movement should challenge the best talent in the Mennonite Church.

The other curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science is the one with a major in premedical science. This curriculum is made up of all the basic subjects generally included in a premedical curriculum. Courses in biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, and English receive major attention. There is a great need for Christian Mennonite doctors and nurses in the rural areas, mountain districts, and the home and foreign mission fields. We encourage this type of Christian service.

The Bible School

From the founding of Eastern Mennonite College, the Bible School has held first place in emphasis and stress. The High School Bible Course and Junior College Bible Course, each of two years, are offered to students on high school and college levels respectively. Increased demands being made of Christian workers, ministers, and missionaries have led to the provision of the Bachelor of Religious Education course of four years, designed especially for women, and the Bachelor of Theology Course of five years designed especially for men.

Alumni Association

Membership in the Alumni Association now totals 1299. We are grateful for the financial and prayer support of our alumni members, and for their consistent lives through which they exemplify the doctrines and teachings of the Mennonite Church through practical Christian living. A goodly number are rendering service as ministers and appointed workers in the foreign field through relief and missionary agencies.

In General

The Board of Trustees and Faculty very much appreciate the support of all who are interested in Christian education. Without your help this school could not exist. With the growing need for more buildings, equipment, and teachers, it becomes imperative that all unite in supporting this worthy cause. We solicit your financial support, student support, prayer support, and invite you to visit our campus. May the Lord be glorified through this Institution!

Lancaster Mennonite School

By Clyde B. Stoner, Secretary-Treasurer

The sixth term of the Lancaster Mennonite School opened on September 9, 1947, with a total enrollment of 209 students, the largest in the history of the school, and with 14 members on the faculty. The following enrollment statistics based upon the registration will show the distribution of students as to grade, sex, day and dormitory students.

Ninth Grade	Day	5-Day	7-Day	Total
Boys	22	15	7
Girls	36	18	18	58
Tenth Grade
Boys	30	18	12
Girls	22	15	6	52
Eleventh Grade
Boys	21	10	11
Girls	28	9	16	49
Twelfth Grade
Boys	18	10	8
Girls	28	19	8	46
Bible
Boys	1		1
Girls	3	3		4
				209

Our enrollment in the Bible Department is small. Although each student attending the school is required to take at least one Bible course each year in attendance, we would like to see a greater interest in this department. Because of the opportunities offered by our Bible Department, we are quite eager to see more of our young people taking the Bible study courses. The Bible Department offers a two-year course of study for those who have discontinued their academic schoolwork and are not primarily interested in continuing in high-school work and graduation from the four-year program. A large variety of courses are offered each year which would be of special value to those preparing for service as Sunday-school teachers, mission workers, or other Christian activities in the church.

New Faculty Members

Three new faculty members have been added to the staff of teachers for the 1947-1948 school term: Paul Kraybill, Elizabethtown, Pa., Hall Manager; Harvey Bauman, Lititz, Pa., teacher of Science and Social Studies; Miriam Weaver, Soudersburg, Pa., assistant Latin teacher and study hall supervisor. The increased enrollment has made it necessary to divide some of the larger classes into two sections for better classroom instruction and supervision of student activities. This has placed a heavier teaching load upon several of our faculty members. We welcome these three new teachers into our school and we appreciate their efforts and interest in the welfare of our young people.

New Courses

To meet more adequately the needs of our students and the ever-expanding interests which come with a larger enrollment, several new courses have been added this year to enrich the content of the school curriculum. In the Commercial Department a new course is offered this year in Personal-use Typewriting. This course is offered on the ninth and tenth grade level primarily for those academic students who are interested in acquiring a working knowledge of the mechanics of typewriting as adapted to its use in the home and in schoolwork. The course is of equal value to those students who are able to take only one or two years of high-school work. In the Bible Department a course, entitled Personal Evangelism and Christian Service, is being offered for the first time. This course is planned for those students of the eleventh and twelfth grades with special emphasis upon methods of soul winning and memorizing suitable scriptures for work in personal evangelism. The second half of the course is designed to emphasize a study of the opportunities for Christian service in the church. Lack of sufficient classroom space and equipment has hindered in the development of the agricultural courses. The need for these courses is recognized and we hope to add these courses as soon as adequate facilities can be provided.

Student Religious Activities

To provide for the proper spiritual guidance and growth which is so vital in the lives of our youth today, numerous religious activities are provided in which students may take an active part. Daily chapel services at the beginning of the day's work with inspirational singing, Scripture reading, and prayer provide for a worship period by the entire student body. Dormitory students are urged to observe a daily fifteen-minute morning watch worship period when students voluntarily lay aside their preparation of lessons for the day to commune with God in quiet meditation, Scripture reading, and prayer in their dormitory rooms. Many blessings have been experienced by those who in this way have observed a daily private devotional life.

We are glad to have Amos Weaver, a member of the faculty and teacher of Bible, serve as school pastor this year. Many opportunities present themselves in this work by which his services can be of special value to the school and also to the students. An effort is being made to have personal interviews with each student to give evidence and encouragement to them in their Christian life and experience.

The Tuesday morning Student Religious Program gives opportunity to students to participate in a religious service. These programs are prepared by a student committee with faculty supervision. The weekly prayer circle for day-student boys and girls as well as the prayer circle conducted each evening for the dormitory boys and girls provides for a wholesome spiritual fellowship and a helpful setting for spiritual teaching and guidance. Numerous religious activities sponsored under the extracurricular activities also provide for opportunities for Christian service in the local community and the city of Lancaster.

Co-operative Work Program

Introduced into the school activities for the first time this year is our student co-operative work program. Under the directed work program, each student is required to give one-half hour each day for one week in recurring periods of approximately five-week intervals in assisting with the cleaning of school buildings and washing and drying dishes in the kitchen. Both day and dormitory students assist in this program with day students doing their share of the work at noon while the dormitory students do their work in the evening after the close of school. Honor points are given for quality of work done.

This co-operative work program has been introduced with the conviction that the school should attempt to provide certain work responsibilities for the students during their leisure time similar to the regular routine chores which were a part of their home duties. Observation in the past has shown that some children may shun the home chores when they return to their homes after they have attended a "boarding school." Under a school environment, there is a danger of students becoming lax in their attitudes towards physical labor. As a result, an overemphasis upon athletics and recreational activities may result. To foster and promote a healthy attitude toward proper work habits at home and at school has been the goal of this program. Student co-operation and willingness to help in this program have been very encouraging. The work program is providing for a co-operative expression of interest in the maintenance of the school buildings and campus and has also provided for worth-while activities during leisure time.

Future Building Plans

The increasing enrollment over the period of the last few years has caused the need for more classrooms and dormitory rooms to remain acute. Because of the division of some of the classes into two sections to accommodate more adequately the classes, every available room has been utilized for instruction purposes. In a few instances, rooms are being used which are very poorly equipped for educational purposes. While building restrictions have been lifted, inflated prices of materials and the present high cost of skilled labor make it seem prohibitive to the Board of Trustees to begin construction at this time of a large combination Dormitory-Classroom-Auditorium building. Recently the Board of Trustees has been giving some consideration to the advisability of having several day schools located in other parts of the Lancaster Conference for pupils of the ninth and tenth grades. This would not require as expensive a building and would make it possible for parents to have their children at home evenings during the early years of high school. Those who would desire to complete their high-school work could take the last two years of school work at L.M.S. If this plan is practical, and if this would serve our parents just as well at a lower cost, it would eliminate temporarily the present congestion at L.M.S. and may even change the proposed plans for the new building.

Appreciations

While there are many problems facing our school with the uncertainty of conditions about us, we are grateful to God for His guidance and blessing upon the work in the past in guiding the work of the school in its infancy and causing the school to be a blessing to the students who have attended, the homes represented and in the larger influence which the school has in the work of the church. It is our sincere desire that the blessings of God may be with our school in the year ahead so that as we strive daily in the task of training our youth for future service, that the church may be strengthened and that more of the youth of the Mennonite Church may consecrate their talents to the cause of Christ in this day of opportunity and worldwide spiritual and physical need.

Bishop Isaac G. Hartzler

By Leroy Gingerich

Isaac Gabriel Hartzler was born on a farm near Belleville, Pa., June 24, 1862. He was the oldest son of Menno and Mary (King) Hartzler. During infancy and boyhood he lived near the place of his birth in Pennsylvania. In young manhood, at the age of eighteen, he accepted Christ as his personal Saviour, and united with the Amish Mennonite Church. Shortly after this he came to Cass County, Mo., and made his church home with the Sycamore Grove congregation in which fellowship he lived and labored the remainder of his life upon the earth.

In 1904 the Lord and the church called Brother Hartzler to the office of deacon. In this work he proved himself a willing and able man. On Oct. 25, 1914, he was called and ordained to the office of bishop.

"During the past sixty-two years he has faithfully served this congregation in the office of Sunday-school teacher, superintendent, deacon, and bishop." The above quotation was taken from the obituary which was read at his funeral.

Brother Hartzler was united in marriage on December 24, 1889, to Sister Mary Miller of Cass County. They made their home on a farm at the southeast edge of East Lynne, a small village, fifty miles southeast of Kansas City, Mo. While he served his church, he also engaged in farming as an occupation from which to get his living. He continued to farm until about the last ten years of his life, at which time his daughter, Loraine, and her husband, Earl Roth, took over the farm work and its responsibility, thus permitting Brother Hartzler to devote more of his time to church work.

The home of Brother Hartzler was not blessed with children of their own, but they lovingly took into their home four children, a boy and three girls. The children are: Mable S. (Mrs. William Guillian), Oklahoma City, Okla.; Emery D. King, Kalona, Iowa; Phoebe King (Mrs. T. H. Erb), Denver, Colo., and Loraine (Mrs. Earl Roth) East Lynne. Mrs. Roth tenderly cared for him during the latter years and days of his life. His loving companion, Mary, passed away on Jan. 23, 1946. On Dec. 15, of the same year, the Lord also called Brother Hartzler to his eternal home, following months of suffering.

Brother "Ike," as he was frequently known, was a friend to all. In his home community people loved him dearly and he was often called to other churches to preach funerals. In his home congregation his people knew him as a man of sympathy, of understanding, and of good judgment. As a student of the Word, he knew the Bible well. There were a number of times that he was asked to preach the conference sermon. One of these occasions was the Missouri-Kansas Conference held at the Mt. Zion Church at Versailles. Brother Hartzler always had a deep heartfelt concern for the Mennonite Church, its conservative standards, its ministry, and its young people. His bishop oversight included not only the Sycamore Grove Church at Garden City, Mo., but also congregations at other places, including Pryor, Okla.; Tuleta, Texas; Stuttgart, Ark.; and other places in the southern field. These churches were small congregations, many hundreds of miles apart.

Brother Hartzler was a friend to the people of his churches. They looked forward with joy to his coming to them. He was also interested in the small congregations to the north and traveled long distances to minister to them spiritually. His busy sacrificial life spent in the service of God and the church is a good example of the kind of life the Christian should live here upon the earth.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 18, 1946, at the Sycamore Grove Church in charge of W. R. Hersherberger and Alva Swartzendruber. Burial was in the nearby Clearfork Cemetery.

"Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city" (Rev. 22:14).

Bishop Chancy A. Hartzler

By Ira Eigsti

Chancy A. Hartzler, son of the late Bishop John J. Hartzler and Magdalena Mast, was born in St. Joseph County, Michigan, May 5, 1876. In his home he was associated with four brothers and three sisters. Before many years of his life had passed, the family moved to Cass County, Missouri. Here, on a farm, he grew to manhood. His educational privileges in public schools were confined to the grades.

His parents were faithful in giving their children training in the ways of God. They were members of the Sycamore Grove Mennonite Church near Garden City, Mo. On May 5, 1893, he confessed Christ before men, following which he was active in Sunday-school work and expressed a great interest in spiritual affairs. He was able to read German better than others his age, and that was one of the factors that resulted in being given the responsibility of teaching a class in Sunday school when about nineteen years of age. His understanding of the Scripture increased as he reached maturity in stature. He served as superintendent of Sunday school a number of years.

In the person of Mary Neuenschwander from a near-by congregation, he found a help meet for his pilgrimage in life and was united in marriage on Dec. 23, 1900. A son, named John, was born to help make the family circle larger and brighter.

A larger field of service opened to Brother Hartzler when he was ordained to preach the Gospel, Oct. 22, 1906, at the Sycamore Grove Church by Bishop John J. Hartzler, his father, and Sebastian Gerig. Soon after this he went to share with others in the work of witnessing for Christ in the city. He served as worker in the Kansas City Mission six years, being associated with Joe Brunk who was superintendent during the first four years. Many other workers shared in enlarging this work of the Lord. One winter he enjoyed the help and associations afforded by attending one Winter Bible Term at Hesston College and Bible School. During the last two years of his ministry in connection with this city mission, he was the superintendent.

At various times he served in Bible conference work in various districts and also answered calls to conduct series of meetings. He started this type of work while serving in the Kansas City Mission work. In 1912 he moved back to Cass County, Missouri.

A new era began in his experience when he moved to Illinois to take up the duties included in an associate pastorate in a rural church located near Tiskilwa. He previously had visited some annual conferences in which the Illinois churches were included and became acquainted with the ministers from this region. Bishop Joseph Burkey, who was in charge of the Willow Springs congregation, in the later years of his ministry developed some infirmities of old age, which led to the request being made to Chancy A. Hartzler to come and help in the pastoral work in this congregation. In January, 1913, he moved to a farm near the church building and assumed duties as minister in the congregation and engaged in farming for an income.

An increasing field of service opened to him beginning July 5, 1914, when he was ordained bishop by Joseph Burkey. Soon after this he was given sole charge of the congregation, being assisted by Henry Albrecht who was the deacon of the congregation. Several years later he ordained Ira Eigsti to assist him in the spiritual ministries of the church. He served the congregation as bishop until his death with the exception of an eighteen-month period when he lived near Goshen, Ind.

In addition to his service in the local congregation, he was very active in the local conference, serving at various times as secretary, moderator, on committees, and also occasionally as a delegate to other conferences.

After serving faithfully for many years, the strain of the work began to tell on him to such an extent that he was forced to take a rest. In January, 1943, he sold his farm and moved into a purchased residence in Tiskilwa. He continued serving the congregation under some physical handicaps, and was occasionally cautioned by the family physician to spend more time resting. Occasionally he made the statement to various persons that the doctor advised him to take it easy, but he preferred to "die with his boots on." During the last year of his ministry he occasionally talked about retiring, but no arrangements were ever made actually to do so. Finally, the Lord retired him by taking him from the activities of this ministry, to a far better country, where men of God rest from their labors. He passed away on Oct. 15, 1947, after a very short acute illness.

After the departure of Chancy A. Hartzler, a wide open space seemed to be left where he had been—in the local church, in the community, and in the conference. The Holy Spirit gave him gifts of such a nature that He gives to comparatively few men. He had a very keen insight into the great truths of the Scriptures, and had the ability to present to men these truths. His ministry was the means of enriching the lives of many people, old and young. He gave much wise counsel to many individuals and groups. His depth of insight as he looked into the Scripture permitted him to grasp an understanding of God to such an extent that the responding action on his part resulted in some contemporaries misunderstanding him and consequently failing to appreciate his contentions for the truth. He was always very persistent in standing for the truth, and those who knew him best will always cherish their memory of this man of God who knew God and earnestly contended for the truth of the Scriptures. His ministry was truly a Scriptural and spiritual one, and because of his faithfulness to his calling, the church is stronger today, and many have received inspiration to go on and "earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints."

Jacob R. Bender

By J. C. Fretz

Jacob R. Bender was a great-grandson of Jacob and Magdalena Bender who in 1831 came from Hessen, Germany, with five children, to Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, where they lived for a year or more and then immigrated to Ontario, to Waterloo County, west of New Hamburg, on what is now Highway No. 7 and 8.

He was one of a family of four sons and eight daughters, the third son of Bishop Jacob M. Bender of East Zorra. His mother was Maria Ruby. He was born in Oxford County on the fifteenth line in East Zorra. From the age of three he lived on his father's farm in Perth County, east of Sabastopol, on the south Easthope Township line. He was a farmer all his life, relieved from chief responsibilities in the last few years when his youngest son took over.

In the year 1892 he accepted Christ as his personal Saviour and was instructed and baptized by his father, Bishop Jacob M. Bender, upon confession of his faith. He proved faithful to his Lord and his church all his life. At the time of his conversion, it was customary for the converts' class to be made up every year or every second year of those who felt led to yield their lives to Christ. There were no prayer meetings. Occasional visiting ministers afforded a few special meetings. It was known that Daniel J. Johns of Indiana had made visits to this community before and after 1892, preaching upon request.

On Sept. 29, 1910, he was united in holy matrimony to Fannie Schwartzentruber of Wilmot Township at the Steinman A. M. Church by Bishop Daniel H. Steinman. This union was blessed by three sons and three daughters, five of whom survived their father. All are members of the Amish Mennonite Church and each a tribute of honor to the one who so faithfully fathered them.

In 1914, on Oct. 21, three months after the death of his father, the bishop, Jacob R., was ordained to the ministry by lot. He had never been deacon. Two bishops officiated, Solomon Swartzentruber of Pigeon, Michigan, and Christian Nafziger of Croghan, N. Y. The ordination took place at the Sixteenth Line Church, East Zorra. At the time of his ordination the ministers were Chris. Kropf and Michael Jantzi. The deacons were Daniel Jutzi, Sam Jutzi, and Joseph Jantzi. On the same day Daniel S. Jutzi was ordained to the ministry. Brother Bender was able to take his turn in preaching in regular order from the time of his ordination. The regularity of his ministerial activity was only twice seriously interrupted through all his years because of unusual illness.

The East Zorra Church prospered in the time of his ministry. As collaborer with Bishop Daniel S. Jutzi and Menno Kipfer, these years resulted in a growth of membership of more than seven hundred now cared for in three churches. In 1935 a neighboring church on the seventeenth line was purchased where Sunday school and preaching are regularly conducted. This procedure was again extended to Tavistock in 1942 where a church was procured and regular worship and Sunday school is conducted there. Thus three places of worship now regularly serve the membership of the East Zorra congregation.

In 1903 Sunday schools were begun in these Amish congregations of Ontario. For a part of the eleven years until his ordination he took part in the work of superintending. For thirty years the Sunday school alternated Sunday morning with the church services. Brother Bender worked long and patiently for the step in 1933 to have both Sunday school and preaching services on the same Sunday and regularly throughout the year.

In 1932 he was instrumental in starting the first Ontario Amish Mennonite Winter Bible School. This was conducted in December in East Zorra. The second and third sessions of this school were conducted at Poole, at Steinmans, and at East Zorra. Thereafter each year until 1941 schools were conducted at three points with Mapleview (Wellesley) instead of Poole. He was one of the instructors of every session. When the schools were allowed to close during the war years of 1942 to 1946, Brother Bender felt very disappointed. In 1947 winter Bible School resumed sessions for six weeks in Kennel's Hall, Wellesley, where he taught with two others. He was often grieved at the small number attending winter Bible schools. But he took great delight and encouragement from the students who gave testimony at the public programs for help they received. With winter Bible school began English preaching. Brother Bender was first to preach English in this Amish Conference and since 1932 spoke mainly in the English language.

The Nonresistant Relief Movement of Ontario was organized in January, 1918. Jacob Bender was a representative for his conference from its beginning. Following the first World War he was instrumental in helping to raise a considerable sum of money, some sixty thousand dollars, as a token of appreciation to the Canadian government for concessions to the peace-loving churches during the war. He continued as one in this organization until the second World War, when he was made a member of its enlarged executive body. Since then he served his conference in sponsoring projects among his people, of funds, clothing, and food.

As a representative of the Military Problems Organization he served the congregations very efficiently in behalf of the young men. Among his papers are numbers of well-kept files reporting the details related to each young man of callable age during 1938 to 1945. Here we see among reasons for well-earned respect on the part of the young people for him. He was untiring in his attention to the particular needs in those difficult days of every young man who found himself in straits.

In 1940 summer Bible school was first conducted at the East Zorra Church with Amos Swartzentruber in charge and Jacob Bender teacher of the teen-age class. This class he taught every year since. He was an able teacher and interested the young people in the Word of God in summer Bible schools as well as in winter Bible schools.

He was interested in the work of General Conference and attended several of its sessions. Occasionally he travelled among the churches in the United States, east, central, and west. His conference frequently exchanged ministerial visits and help with Ohio. In Nebraska and neighboring states he had relatives. At least once he conducted evangelistic services in Holmes and Stark counties, Ohio. Among his latest trips was one in 1945 to Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, and Ohio, where he filled preaching appointments en route. In October, 1946, he attended the fall sessions as delegate to the Commission for Christian Education, at Kansas City, and then visited churches and relatives in Nebraska, Iowa, and Colorado. His spirit of contentment was exercised by a prolonged snow storm that detained him on this visit among relatives.

As a historian Brother Bender did much for his church and for his family. In the book, "A Brief History of the Mennonites in Ontario," is one entire chapter entitled "The Amish Mennonites in Canada." He gathered and compiled this record, the only one of its kind. Introducing it he says, "My chief sources of information have been two manuscripts . . . and old family Bibles where records of births, immigration, and ordination and death were kept. The gathering has involved many trips to different churches and much searching. The labor has been interesting and profitable and has revealed some sad facts and also some very encouraging ones."

The Bender family history is a production of his, who, with the aid of interested relatives, finished preparation and presented it to the printer only a few weeks before his death. Among his last words in this connection to the writer of this sketch who helped him on review of manuscripts was, "Here we must stop. Much more could be done."

As a church leader, he served on many conferences and young people's committee and programs. He was a good committeeman, able to forbear, with patience to wait where harmony was needed, not easily disturbed, not easily disheartened, stable, and with conviction, mild and humble, of pleasant disposition, sober thinking, an able speaker, a thoughtful expounder, not given to controversy. He never missed the stranger in the services, and never overlooked the children. His judgment was sought and respected. He was a peace-loving and peace-making member of conference. His foresight was searching. His decisions were safe and progressive. His analysis of a situation provoked thinking and counsel. As a wise counsellor in domestic and family problems his advice was frequently sought.

He lived in the transition from an era of little activity for young people to that of enlightenment, increased spirituality, and hopeful outlook. He was "young" enough to appreciate the needs and the viewpoints of the young people and also respect those of the elderly people. He could appeal to those of his own age in a particularly effective manner for the welfare of the younger generation. Though classed as one of the previous generation, he never lost his usefulness to this present generation.

Under his painstaking care many a disinterested soul became a searcher of the Scriptures. Holding the Word and the Saviour foremost, he gave no place to self-life and carnality. He labored unceasingly for the uplift in spiritual life of the brotherhood. He preached a full Gospel with great fervor and effectual. Possessor of a spiritual life, he was instrumental in inspiring and leading others to the quest for a deeper experience with God. He did much to create interest in missions in his life. He knew his Bible and his Saviour as he knew his best friends. How well he knew a Christian at first sight. Those who knew the Lord were his friends.

Surely his was a life that grew to maturity in the grace of God and of Christ his Saviour. Well could it be said of him as of Paul, "He fought a good fight, he finished his course, he kept the faith." May his noble life provoke many to holy life and good works, thus enlarging the witness for our Saviour. This would fulfill his highest desire.

His death came as peacefully as the life that he endeavored to live. On April 23, 1947, he was called to his eternal reward in his night's sleep. The funeral attended by some 1,500 relatives and friends was in charge of the ministering brethren, Peter Nafziger, and Bishops Moses O. Jantzi and Moses H. Roth. He had reached the allotted span of life, departing this life in his seventy-third year.

Clifford Anson Snyder

By Merle Shantz

"Not till the loom is silent,
And the shuttles cease to fly,
Shall God unroll the canvas,
And explain the reason why
The dark threads are as needful
In the Weaver's hand,
As the threads of gold and silver
In the pattern He has planned."

Clifford Anson Snyder was born in southern Ontario. After a short life span of thirty-two years, his earthly history was ended by burial at sea off the west coast of Brazil near where the mighty Amazon River empties into the South Atlantic.

To write this brief memorial is to be faced again with the questions which lie hidden within the orb of ultimate reality. To review our brother's life means to confront the reader again with life's inscrutable mysteries. Why did he feel a call to a field which he never reached, Why did God permit his life to be so suddenly ended? Why was he allowed to deny himself so much for a training which was put to use so little in regard to his life objective? To the godless it all seems part of this world's crazy lack of pattern.

Brother Snyder was born Oct. 24, 1914, to Menno and Ida Groh Snyder, the oldest child in a family of five, in Berlin (now Kitchener), of pioneer stock that came to Ontario from Pennsylvania about half a century before Canada was a Dominion. In his early childhood his parents moved to a farming community adjacent to Kitchener, known as Natchez. In the neighborhood school he received his elementary education, after which he continued his secondary training at the Kitchener-Waterloo Collegiate and Technical Institute from which he graduated.

It was during the spiritually receptive days of his public school years that he received the Lord Jesus Christ as Saviour, having been converted at the age of eleven. He was baptized and received into the church on Dec. 20, 1925. At a relatively early age he became active in the church as a Sunday-school teacher and in due course of time his abilities were recognized by his being made the intermediate superintendent.

Very soon after finishing his secondary studies, he enrolled at the Ontario Mennonite Bible School which he attended a sufficient number of successive winters in order to graduate in 1935. He also took post-graduate work there, after receiving his diploma. Meanwhile he was developing his musical abilities as well, having spent several years as a member of a mixed chorus under the leadership of Aaron Kolb. That his interest in singing was genuine and that his abilities in that direction were above the average are attested by the fact that he himself conducted a singing school in 1938 at the Sharon congregation near Guernsey, Sask., in the Canadian west. Incidentally one of the last much appreciated contributions he made to his home congregation was the training and conducting of a ladies' chorus.

Because Brother Snyder felt the need of further preparation for Christian service he entered the Toronto Bible College in 1942 and remained there for two years until his graduation in 1944. While at this institution he won the respect and esteem of teachers and students alike. The two years spent in Toronto were years of very intensive living. Here the versatile type of his personality began to be revealed more fully. He made use of his technical abilities by teaching part-time at a radio college. He gave evidence of his deep sense of Christian stewardship by helping with the spiritual activities of the Mennonite Gospel Mission on Danforth Avenue, acting as Sunday-school superintendent and assisting with the preaching. While at Bible College he also served on evangelistic teams with which he went out both preaching and singing the Gospel. Perhaps the impact he made upon this institution can best be summarized by a statement of one of the faculty members who described him as "a dear brother, a fine student, and a Christian gentleman." It was in the midst of these two years' training in Toronto that Brother Snyder was united in holy matrimony to Sister Doris Swartzentruber, the daughter of Brother and Sister Amos Swartzentruber, the marriage being solemnized in the First Mennonite Church, Kitchener, on June 26, 1943.

A few months after graduating from Bible College, he was ordained to the Gospel ministry on August 20. Though his gifts and testimony bore abundant evidence to his qualifications for Christian service, he did not consider himself to have attained that full stature of mind or spirit whereby he would be able to serve in God's kingdom without further training. Consequently in the fall of 1944 he entered Goshen College and remained there through 1945 graduating with his B.A. degree. It was during these years of preparation at Toronto and Goshen that his ideals crystallized into a settled conviction that he should witness for Christ in the Argentine. Recognizing his calling and capacities, the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities gave him and Sister Snyder a temporary appointment at the Spanish Mennonite Mission in Chicago where they labored from February, 1946, to October, 1946 while awaiting passports to enter the Argentine.

When the time of their departure for the Southern hemisphere seemed to be near at hand, the Snyders with their two little ones came to Kitchener to make final preparation for their journey. While waiting for passage, Brother Clifford assisted at the First Mennonite Church. One could do little better than to quote the words of his home pastor that "he was a consistent Christian, thoughtful and deeply spiritual, with a fine co-operative spirit. He worked well with both old and young."

It was a high tide in the spiritual history of First Mennonite Church when on the afternoon of March 19, 1947, farewell services were held for this departing missionary couple. The day seemed full of promise for the lengthening of the cords and the strengthening of the stakes of the congregation in respect to their interests in South America. Also on the following forenoon a large company of Christian friends including students from the Ontario Mennonite Bible School were at the depot to sing God speed to Brother and Sister Snyder, and their children, Margaret Ann and Clifford Arnold. As the train sped westward towards Indiana many prayers ascended to the throne of the heavenly Father on their behalf and human hopes for the future ran high.

The missionary family in company with other Argentine bound missionaries sailed from New York on March 23. All seemed well until they were well within the southern seas approaching the Equator. On April 9 Brother Clifford took sick; on the following day, April 10, his spirit passed away to be with the Lord, the verdict of the attending physicians was that his death had been caused by cerebral hemorrhage.

His body was buried at sea near the Equator and the knowledge of that unmarked, watery grave in the South Atlantic will long bind the hearts of our brotherhood in North America to the hearts of those in South America, as well as strengthen our common unity in Jesus Christ.

A memorial service was held Sunday, April 27, 1947, which was largely attended, not only by those in the near vicinity, but by representatives from the church as a whole. C. F. Derstine preached a memorial sermon on "The Abbreviated Life," and J. D. Graber, Secretary of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, gave a message entitled, "Who Follows in His Train?"

It is impossible to evaluate adequately the contribution of Brother Snyder's life to the cause of Jesus Christ. Although he died on the threshold of life, who can say but what his contribution by the grace of God has already exceeded that of many who have lived twice his years. The sudden passing of our young brother has again confronted the young people of the Mennonite Church with the challenge of living up to their privileges and responsibilities as followers of the crucified One. Already his departure has resulted in youth deciding for Christian service. And though the brotherhood in the Argentine is deprived of a much needed addition to the missionary personnel by his death, nevertheless his wife, Sister Doris Snyder, proceeded to the field with her children, strengthened by Him who is the Husband of the widow and the Father of the fatherless.

Brother Snyder was pre-eminently a Christian. He had a persistent and intelligent devotion to the Lord Jesus Christ and sought to make Him known to the lost and to glorify Him among the saved. He was loyal to the church of Christ and believed that the Mennonite way of life represented a consistent application of the teachings and spirit of the Word of God.

Deacon Sem Eby

By Amos Weaver

On Tuesday afternoon, March 18, 1947, in the little village of Intercourse, Lancaster County, Sem Eby quietly passed away to be with his Lord after an illness of only a week. "The Lord of the harvest," whom he had so faithfully served throughout a busy lifetime, had called him home to Himself. His kindly interest and concern, wise counsel and advice, endeared him to many, both young and old. His many talents and outstanding ability in many fields made him "indispensable" in his home and in the church, both locally and conference-wide, especially in the missionary enterprises of the church.

Brother Eby was born on the Eby homestead in Leacock Township, along the Pequea Creek on Aug. 16, 1877. His parents were the late John and Lizzie Mellinger Eby, who named him after his grandfather Sem Eby, who was at that time a deacon in the Paradise-Hershey district. Paradise, which was only a few miles from his boyhood home, became the church which he attended all his life. He attended Hickory Grove School, about one half mile north of his father's home. Here he had an experience which had a lasting influence on his life. One Christmas his teacher, Sallie Trainer, instead of buying candy and oranges for the children, donated the money allowed for that to Rev. Gaylord, pastor of the Paradise Presbyterian Church, to be used toward the building of a small chapel for the Negro people on the Welsh Mountain. Here began Brother Eby's lifelong interest in the Negro people of the Welsh Mountain, which ripened into a strong support of mission work to these people.

On Oct. 20, 1899, at the age of twenty-two, he was received into the Mennonite Church at Paradise by Bishop Isaac Eby. On Nov. 15, 1900, he was married to Minnie Leaman, with whom he lived happily on a farm adjoining that of his father. Here they raised a family of four children, Edna, Verna, Warren, and John. Brother Eby was an efficient farmer, taking a special interest in developing a fine dairy herd.

Sorrow came into Brother Eby's home when, at the age of forty-one, he was left a widower. Later in life he was married to Naomi Buckwalter, a widow, who now survives him. By this marriage, Ira J. Buckwalter, the present Treasurer of the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, became his stepson. At the same time he also acquired a stepdaughter, Mae.

In the spring of 1929 he moved to the village of Intercourse, where he resided until his death. His son, Warren, took over the home farm where he still lives.

On Feb. 12, 1931, Brother Eby was ordained by Bishop C. M. Brackbill to the office of deacon at the Paradise Meetinghouse. He was ordained to assist our older Deacon Isaac E. Hershey, whom he survived by only one month. He served faithfully in this office as a trustworthy steward, an able counselor, and also as an energetic worker in the interest of the brotherhood. He always had a cheerful greeting for all, with a special interest for the young people. He made it a point to "greet the friends by name," in which he succeeded almost a hundred per cent. As a staunch defender of the conservative faith of his fathers, he labored earnestly for the salvation of lost souls.

Brother Eby was also a charter member of the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, which was organized in 1914 and incorporated in 1916. In 1930 he was elected as fifth member of the Executive Committee, and on Jan. 1, 1933, he was elected to succeed Henry F. Garber as treasurer of the Board. He was the third treasurer of the Board, and served faithfully in that office fourteen years. During these years he had the very able assistance of his stepson, Ira J. Buckwalter, who acted as his bookkeeper. These years of close association with his father in the work of the treasurer's office eminently qualified Brother Buckwalter to succeed him as treasurer, to which office he has since been duly elected by the Board. Brother Eby's wife also gave him much help in later years, working on the "accounts" in his office in his home.

During his term of office the Board entered an expanding missionary program. The year 1933 marked the beginning of foreign mission work of this Board, with the sending of the first missionaries to Tanganyika, East Africa. As this work grew, the work of the treasurer's office grew accordingly, and with the coming of the War Sufferers' Relief and the C.P.S. program the volume was still greatly increased. The total receipts in 1933, the first year he was in office, which incidentally was the lowest in receipts since 1917, was $31,922.32, while in the year 1946, the last year, the total was $317,560.34. The total amounts passing through his hands in the fourteen years of his service were $1,712,968.75.

Because of the duties of the treasurership becoming too arduous for the condition of his health, he presented his resignation at the July meeting of the Board held at the Hershey Church to take effect Dec. 31, 1946.

Besides his connections with the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, he had time for a variety of other interests, among them the work on the Welsh Mountain. He served on the local board of the Welsh Mountain Mission twenty-nine years. During this time the work there was expanded (1924-1929, 1940) to include a home for the aged (white), and known as the Welsh Mountain Samaritan Home. He was also the leading spirit in a later (1938) effort to revive and intensify the spiritual ministry to the Negro community by making it a separate department from the Mission Home. In 1944 his stepson, Ira J. Buckwalter, was chosen by lot from a class of four brethren, to serve in this ministry.

Brother Eby always maintained a deep interest in the spiritual needs of the Negro people. Until 1933, the work on the Welsh Mountain was the only organized effort to meet this need by the Lancaster Conference. In this year work among the Negro people was opened in Lancaster City; in 1935 at Philadelphia; and in 1938 at Andrews Bridge and at Reading. In all of these movements he was a strong promoter.

To Brother Eby's office came gifts not only from Lancaster Conference, but with the developing of the Africa Mission, money was received representing a church-wide interest in this work. With the increasing relief and C.P.S. program came funds from Old Order Amish and Old Order Mennonites for these concerns.

The funds, as they left, found their way into the mission stations close at home, and into various fields of mission and relief service in many parts of the world. Here also returning missionaries and church workers from far and near were always welcome and found one who was interested in the labor they were doing for the Master.

While the first year in office marked the beginning of the Africa Mennonite Mission with a small balance on hand, the last year of service witnessed steps being taken for the Board's next effort in foreign mission work by opening a new field in Ethiopia. The first workers at this writing are expected to sail for the field by Dec. 5.

During this period there was also an expansion in home missions including the latest in a new field in Alabama.

In 1933 the Board had notes receivable held against the Russian Immigrants of nearly $33,000, the balance due from a loan made to them in 1924-25. In the years of depression, payments were slow, and it was a matter of great concern to Brother Eby, whether sufficient funds would be received to discharge the Board's responsibilities. However, with the coming of more prosperous times, payments from our Russian brethren in Canada became more regular. Some notes were still unpaid at the end of 1946, but a few days after his death a letter was received by the succeeding treasurer enclosing final payments on this program, thus came to a close a successful program of immigration financing.

Brother Eby gave his final report as the treasurer of the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities on Tuesday, March 11, 1947 at the Mount Joy Meetinghouse, the same place he had given his first report fourteen years earlier. That evening when he came home he did not feel well, his illness becoming worse until just one week later he was called home by his Lord to give to Him his final report.

The writer was associated with him during the last few years of his life rather intimately as a colaborer in the ministry, and fellow member of the Board of Trustees of the Lancaster Mennonite Conference Schools, on which he was also a charter member. I know that our brother is greatly missed in all of these areas where he so faithfully and ably served.

While many of us feel that Brother Eby filled a large place in the work of the Lord, it is understandable that situated as he was, in a place where he saw the great needs of humanity, and the comparative fewness of the laborers, one of his latest expressions was a poignant, "I have done so little." Also a number of other last words indicated that our brother was finding all his comfort in his Saviour's blood and His finished work on the cross, and not in any little that he may have done. Luke 17:10.

* The above tabulation represents contributions received by the Treasurer of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities including contributions received directly by the city missions and charitable institutions under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Charitable contributions include only contributions that were received by the Treasurer and not payments made by patrons of the charitable institutions. Other contributions not included in this tabulation are annuities and district board contributions not forwarded to the Treasurer at Elkhart. Most of the contributions under General Fund of missions have been used for home work.

TOTAL $78,725.86

* During the period that Mutual Aid has been operating, July 19, 1945, to August 1, 1947, sixty-four loans have been made, totaling $78,725.86. Of the total loans made, there have been repayments amounting to $15,806.54. In general, repayments have been made as originally arranged or faster, except that in a few cases it was necessary to review the applicant's situation and revise his terms of repayment to more adequately fit his situation and need. In only one case have we failed to receive the conscientious co-operation and regard for the obligation incurred which should be expected of Christians in such circumstances. It is our purpose to keep continually sensitive to the needs and problems of those we are helping, and by counsel and sympathetic understanding, as well as financially, to help them find the solution to their problems which will enable them to carry through with their undertakings successfully.

The Christian Ministry

A New Magazine for Ministers and Lay Workers

THE CHRISTIAN MINISTRY is the answer to a long-felt need for a magazine that deals specifically and largely on the level of the problems and interests of the average rural minister and those who have had little or no opportunity for formal training.

PURPOSE:

1. To guide the minister in relating the work of the local congregation to general church activities.
2. To inspire the minister and church worker in all lines of work.
3. To provoke thought and to give instruction in matters of doctrine.
4. To assist the minister in his pastoral work.
5. To help the minister to be a better preacher of the Word.
6. To acquaint ministers and Christian workers with current thought and literature.
7. To give guidance in sound Biblical interpretation.
8. To provide opportunity for the discussion of church problems and present-day issues.

THE CHRISTIAN MINISTRY was not intended to set up competition with other national and interdenominational preachers' magazines. It is the result of a studied effort to provide ministerial help for the large body of ministers, Sunday-school superintendents, and lay workers who have been looking for help for their own particular average rural and small city fields.

Editor: John R. Mumaw. Associate editors: Jess Kauffman, Elmer G. Kolb, John H. Mosemann, and Roy Koch.

All ordained brethren in the Mennonite Church received a complimentary copy of the first issue of THE CHRISTIAN MINISTRY. Sample copies are free upon request to anyone. Subscription, flat rate: $1.00 per year; issued quarterly.

Instructive Entertaining Reading

THE TRAIL OF THE CONESTOGA by Mabel Dunham

This is not only a fascinating picture of the immigration of the Mennonites to Waterloo County, Canada from Pennsylvania, but an intimate study of their home life—its joys, sorrows, struggles and hardships and its final achievements. It is a realistic record of high courage and perseverance, of endurance and toil because of devotion to principle. Historically accurate, it embodies romance in the story of Sam Bricker and his Beccy, of whom Sam often asserts, "It don't give many women like Beccy!" The Trail of the Conestoga has many lasting qualities which make it a book that will be widely read for years to come. 340 pages in attractive binding and jacket. .... $2.75

LUCY WINCHESTER by Christmas Carol Kauffman

This is the story of a girl who was born and reared in a modest country home along the Mississippi. When she was a small child she saw these words on a silver dollar, "In God We Trust." From that day on, she had an intense longing to know God and how to trust Him. The tragic story of her life reveals some of the physical and spiritual struggles she endured. In these pages the hardships of rural life of four decades ago live afresh. The heroine experienced the awakening longing for God in adolescence, with trials, tears, heartaches, and misunderstandings. Here in one heart-gripping true story are woven life's fabric of romance, disappointment, bereavement, poverty, homelessness, sickness, despair, burdens almost unbearable, but in the end, hope eternal and heaven's peace through the promises of God.

Cloth Binding, Colored Jacket, 376 Pages ..... $2.00

ROSANNA OF THE AMISH by Joseph W. Yoder

A thrilling narrative of Rosanna McGonegal Yoder, the Irish Catholic baby girl who providentially came under the influence of the Amish maiden lady, Elizabeth Yoder.

You will love the heroine of this story as you follow the colorful yet common career of this Amish girl. Nothing of interest in an Amish girl's life is omitted.

Heartstrings will be touched with such incidents as the death of Rosanna's mother; Rosanna's deep affection for "Momly"; Rosanna's first husking bee; Little Crist's visits to see Rosanna; the wedding; the dower; the first sorrow; and the new house by the tannery.

The author, as one of the Amish folk, understands and gives an honest, sympathetic, and straightforward account of the religious, social, and economic customs and traditions which have been adhered to for more than two hundred fifty years. .... $2.25

Haven't You Often Wished to Own a Complete Bible Study Outfit?

Often we have been asked: "Where can I get the books I need to acquire a full knowledge of the Bible?" This is our answer:

At the Price Offered, Everyone—Minister, Teacher, Student or Individual Reader may Enjoy a Real Bible Study Course at Smallest Cost.

1. GRAY'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE

By JAMES M. GRAY, D.D.
For Many Years President of the Moody Bible Institute
Over 350,000 Words, 443 Double Column Pages.

Over 25,000 Questions, Index.
"At last! A truly competent American commentary on the Bible in one volume at a price within the reach of all—never, in a really popular sense, met before.

"This is eminently the Commentary of the people. No Sunday-school teacher can afford to be without it, and in any Christian home it will enrich the family devotions.—Dr. C. I. SCOTFIELD.

2. SMITH'S BIBLE DICTIONARY

Every Subject, Person, Place or Event in The Bible Treated with Fullness and Fidelity.

This is the only American edition of the abridgement made by Dr. Smith from his great encyclopedic work.

Containing every name in the Bible, it gives an account of each of the books of the Bible.

New edition profusely illustrated, including many added illustrations, valuable maps, engravings of ancient cities and memorable places, etc.

3. CRUDEN'S COMPLETE CONCORDANCE

Nearly 100,000 References, Notes, Proper Names, in Consecutive Order.

For over a century and a half this work has held its place as an indispensable Bible reference help. Everyone will appreciate its indispensable help. This unabridged edition enables one, with the smallest amount of labor, to select all the Scripture passages necessary to illustrate a subject or interpret a theme.

The Best in Good Literature

The Gospel Herald for a Lifetime

for $40<sup>00</sup>

Our Advantages:

- No more expiration notices.
- No more renewal work.
- Protection against price rises.
- You supply funds which the Church needs.

Your Advantages:

- Your subscription is continuous.
- No renewal book work.
- An investment for the Church.
- We can publish more and better Christian literature.

A Lifetime subscription is not a gamble against time; nor is it life insurance.

The money sent us for Lifetime subscriptions are gifts which your Mennonite Publishing House will invest in a greatly-needed expansion program—to purchase equipment and make an addition to the present House building, both so urgently needed to meet the requirements of the growing literature demands our constituency and others who read our literature.

Under the Lifetime subscription plan, the Gospel Herald will come to your home as long as you or your wife lives, whichever is longer. Why not also subscribe to the Christian Monitor for a Lifetime for $25?
